Alaska's Planes Ready For Action

FORT RICHARDSON, Alaska (UP)—Jet fighter planes stood ready for "instant" takeoff on every Alaskan airstrip today as territorial military forces manned their posts on a "defensive alert" designed to foil any "Pearl Harbor" attack.

Every means of detection, from sharp-eyed native spotters on the Arctic seaboard to the latest type radar, was in continuous operation, with fresh crews rotating at control points.

Military personnel manning Alaska defenses were kept constantly alert. A certain percentage of men in every outfit were BRUSSELS (AP)—King Leopold was voted back to his throne by the Belgian Parliament today.

He has been in exile in Switzerland since the war. The question of bringing him back split Belgium badly for months, with the Socialists particularly being bitterly opposed to his return.

A joint session of both Houses of Parliament cast 198 affirmative votes for Leopold's return, with most Opposition Socialists, Liberals and Communists abstaining in protest. There are 387 members in both Houses.

All boys, the quads were born in the seventh month of pregnancy. The doctor in charge of Cantanzaro Hospital said mother and babies were "doing splendidly."

Mrs. Lioi sighed resignedly when the hospital's obstetrician told her she was the mother of a second set of quads. She murmured, "more work for us."

She works beside her husband all day in the fields on the hard plains of Calabria, in the extreme south of Italy, as well as tending house, husband and children.

The father, Domenico Lioi, a grizzled, prematurely aged man of 40, declared: "Never again."

"How can we live? Can we afford to feed 10 mouths on the money I make?"

The Calabrian peasants, when they work, earn about 500 lire a day. (At official rates there are 600 lire to the dollar). Sometimes they work only a few months in the year.

No War Boom Yet In U.S. Plane Plants

Officials Point Gloomy Picture

LOS ANGELES (UP)—Hundreds of job hunters milled outside southern California aircraft plants today, but the industry reported it did not know what to do with them.

Since the outbreak of the Korean war, the job hunters have thronged around the factories.

But aside from a few orders to overhaul mothballed planes, there has been no war boom in the industry. The only other work going on is on contracts previously placed.

The Korean crisis brought job applicants in droves, the major aircraft plants reported. Little hiring was being done, however, because no move for expansion could be made until officials know what the government wants.

Aircraft leaders said if the need for expansion did become urgent, the plants would be in a worse position than before World War II.

Current production is running about 2,500 planes a year, less than half that of 1940. From May, 1940, it took about two years to hit full production. Now it would take about 34 months to hit the same peak, they said.

Planes are bigger now and more complicated. A new fighter weighs about as much as a twin-engine transport of World War II. Electronic equipment and other devices add to the headaches of the job.

Woodworkers Arrive At Final Terms

Final contract agreement was reached today between Bloedel, Stewart and Welch Ltd. and the International Woodworkers of America (C.I.O.-C.C.L.).

Tentative agreement was reached in mid-June, but the question of Saturday pay at one company plant delayed signing of contracts. The plant operates seven days a week.

Agreement calls for time and a half for Saturday as well as Sunday work.

Other points in the contract, including a wage boost of 12½ cents an hour and a 40-hour week, were settled at the same time 163 coastal operators came to terms with the I.W.A.

Special Meeting On Saanich Water Supply

Owing to a deluge of telephoned complaints coming from many sections of Saanich about lack of water caused by easing of restrictions, an emergency meeting of the council will be called by Reeve J. W. Casey.

This follows the council decision Monday night to ease restrictions by allowing residents on their legal watering day to water their lawns and flower gardens at any time. Prior to that they had to wait until 10 at night.

Reeve Casey, back at work today after a bad bout with flu, said he was swamped with telephone calls yesterday from citizens suffering acutely from the decision to ease the bans on use of water.

"PEOPLE WERE ANGRY" "I had at least 150 phone calls from many sections of the municipality throughout yesterday telling me about having no water. The people were angry," said Reeve Casey. He was still dry lips.

Carpenters Out On Two Big Jobs

Carpenters of the G. H. Wheaton construction firm went on strike today and the possibility of further strikes by other carpenters loomed.

The Wheaton men decided to strike in a government-supervised vote Wednesday night. Of 62 eligible to vote, 54 balloted. When ballots were counted, 35 favored strike action and 19 were opposed.

Ernest Oliver, president of local 1508, United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners (T.L.C.-A.F.L.), indicated the union would shortly press for strike votes among carpenters employed by other major construction firms in the city.

The union contends contractors who bargain through the Victoria Building Industries Exchange have failed to come to reasonable terms with the union for a 1950 work agreement.

TERMS BINDING

The exchange on the other hand, says the union agreed to accept terms of a unanimous conciliation board report handed down in June and that those terms should be binding.

The conciliation board recommended an eight-cent-an-hour increase for carpenters, union shop security and a no-strike clause. The exchange accepted the report and put the recommended wage increase into effect July 1. The new rate provides carpenters with an hourly pay of $1.63.

The carpenters' union has rejected the board report. The union says it wants an agreement comparable with the standard agreement of the Vancouver Island District Council of Carpenters.

German Reds On Soviet Side

BERLIN (UP)—Eastern Germany's President Wilhelm Pieck told some 4,000 cheering Communists today that the German people would fight on Russia's side in case of war with the United States.

The claim was a highlight of his six-hour speech at the opening of a German Communist convention. He accused the United States of fighting in Korea in order to stave off an economic crisis at home.

New Bazooka Knocking Out Korean Tanks

Credited With Eight Kills In One Day

TOKYO (AP)—The United States Army's king-sized bazooka—the new 3.5-inch ground rocket launcher—knocked out an official six or seven Communist tanks today in its first battlefield test at Taejon, Korea.

Front-line dispatches said an eighth tank later was knocked out.

The weapon was manufactured and transported from the United States in only a few days.

The new recoilless weapon was described as a modern version of the Second World War bazooka except it is larger and is fired from the shoulder. The old bazooka fired a 2.36-inch rocket.

The new weapon is designed primarily for close fire. But it also can be used against "fortified positions." In covering a specific area its effect is similar to a round from an A-1 millimeter mortar, a communiqué from Gen. MacArthur's headquarters said.

The 3.5-inch rocket launcher is a two-piece, smooth-bore weapon of the open-tube type. It is electrically operated. Ammunition is approximately 23 inches long and weighs slightly more than eight pounds.

The gunner uses a reflecting sight which enables him to keep focused on targets moving up to 40 miles an hour.

Low Morale, Training In Reds' Ranks

TOKYO (AP)—Morale and training among some recently organized North Korean divisions are "stratally low," a United States headquarters communiqué said today.

North Korean troops don't surrender easily, headquarters said, because they fear they will be killed if they do.

The communiqué said intelligence agencies reported, as an example of low training and morale:

The 15th North Korean Division was built around a nucleus of battle-hardened officers and men with Manchuria and China experience.

Specialists—tank and mortar crews, machine-gunners and other skilled personnel—trained in the North Korean army were added. In June, draftees were added as foot soldiers.

Heavy Damage As Tornadoes Hit In U.S.

LIMA, O. (AP)—Tornadoes hit two Ohio communities and a tiny west-Texas town Wednesday. Some 20 persons were injured and property damage was heavy, reports today showed.

A child was killed by lightning in a storm that hit near Quitman, Texas, about 60 miles north of Lubbock.

Some 300 homes were damaged and a score of persons hurt in the tornado that swept across Lima, a city of about 50,000. Another twister struck at Van Wert, O., 27 miles west of Lima, damaging several farm buildings.

Heavy Toll Taken By Withdrawing Troops

TOKYO (CP)—U.S. and North Korean troops tonight were engaged in fierce fighting around Taejon and some field dispatches said the key rail and highway junction had been abandoned by its defenders.

Reuter said the last Americans were ordered out of the blazing city at dusk after a day of street fighting in which they took a heavy toll of invading tanks. A Communist drive farther west also was reported making progress.

A spokesman at U.S. Military Headquarters in Korea said the army had lost touch with Gen. William F. Dean, commander of the U.S. 24th Division fighting at Taejon, but added: "That does not mean he is missing."

U.S. troops were credited with knocking out at least 11 of the score or more of tanks which the North Koreans flung against Taejon, which had served as provisional capital of South Korea since the fall of Seoul.

Using a new 3.5 rocket gun capable of piercing the heavy North Korean armor, the Americans clung to the city stubbornly. An American fighter pilot back from a mission to the area described it as "burning like hell."

Chonju In Invaders' Hands

He also said North Korean forces of unknown strength were reported in Chonju early Thursday in a drive south along the western side of the Korean peninsula. American planes attacked Chonju and Kumje. This indicated that Kumje also was in enemy hands.

The Chonju-Kumje area is about 40 air miles southwest of fallen Taejon.

A South Korean army spokesman said the enemy entered Yechon on the central front today, but later was driven out with 400 casualties.

Yechon is between Hamchang and Andong.

A note of optimism was sounded by Gen. MacArthur, United Nations commander. He said the invaders already have lost their "one great chance" for victory by failing to knock out South Korea before U.S. forces blunted their drive.

"Our hold upon the southern part of Korea represents a secure base," MacArthur said. "We are there to stay."

The Red drive on Taejon, deserted former South Korean provisional capital, was the first attack in force from their dearly won ground south of the Kum River.

Field dispatches said the first seven Red tanks rumbling toward Taejon were picked off one after another by new ground-fired rockets.

There was no indication how many tanks the invaders had got across the Kum.

But at least four more rolled

Marijuana Ring Smashed Police Report

YAKIMA, Wash. (BUP)—One of the biggest marijuana peddling operations in the Yakima valley in many years was believed smashed today as police arrested four Mexican suspects.

The men were identified as Richard H. Chappa, 34, Yakima; Eli Rico, 18; Rafael Nieto, 48, and Alex Garcia, 18, all of Wapato, Wash.

Officers said the arrests climaxed a five-month investigation into the sale of marijuana cigarettes to Yakima high school students. They said investigation disclosed that 10 youths were involved in the purchase of the cigarettes at a price of $1 each.

Police said that after a member of the narcotics ring made initial contact with the high school youths, the students went to Wapato to make subsequent purchases from members of the ring.

The four suspects were charged with possession and sale of marijuana. Officers said the drug was brought into the district from out of the state, and a quantity was seized from the suspects.

CANADIAN PLANTS MAY GET ARMS CONTRACTS OVERFLOW

OTTAWA (CP)—President Truman's multi-billion-dollar arms program is expected to spill over into Canada and place Canadian industries at work on orders running into many millions of dollars, authoritative sources said today.

It is felt here that Canada's postwar ambition to get the peacetime equivalent of the wartime Hyde Park arms integration plan with the U.S. is nearer fruition because of the new U.S. program.

With American orders in prospect, with Canada's own arms production being stepped up and negotiations going on to have Canada aid the arming of Western Europe, there were strong indications that this country may yet turn into the war industrial arsenal Ottawa has been seeking.

Discussions with European countries have been trying to find out what they want.

TOKYO (CP)—U.S. and North Korean troops tonight were engaged in fierce fighting around Taejon and some field dispatches said the key rail and highway junction had been abandoned by its defenders.

Attack Began Before Dawn

The Communist attack on Taejon began before dawn Thursday. Twenty tanks lumbered out of the darkness, many with infantry perched on their sides. Bazookas checked the advance, but the ground troops came on. Many of them, dressed as civilians, sneaked into Taejon behind the Americans and began a grim game of hide-and-seek through the rough, unpaved alleys among tightly-shuttered shops and houses.

Official reports from U.S. Eighth Army headquarters in Korea said the 24th Division still held Taejon at the end of a bitter day of fighting.

A spokesman said U.S. troops knocked out 11 enemy tanks in the area in 24 hours.

He also said North Korean forces of unknown strength were reported in Chonju early Thursday in a drive south along the western side of the Korean peninsula. American planes attacked Chonju and Kumje. This indicated that Kumje also was in enemy hands.

A South Korean army spokesman said the enemy entered Taejon on the central front today but later was driven out with 400 casualties.

"Our hold upon the southern part of Korea represents a secure base," MacArthur said. "We are there to stay."

Dearly Won Ground For North

The Red drive on Taejon, deserted former South Korean provisional capital, was the first attack in force from their dearly-won ground south of the Kum River.

Field dispatches said the first seven Red tanks rumbling toward Taejon were picked off one after another by new ground-fired rockets.

Pilots reported four big fires burning in Taejon shortly after noon. They apparently were caused by shells lobbed into the city.

A.P. correspondent Leif Erickson said some Red artillery appeared to be southwest of Taejon. This would mean the Reds have cut deep on the west flank.

As the Reds lashed at Taejon, two reinforcing U.S. divisions—the 1st Cavalry (mechanized) and the 25th Infantry—moved into position for expected new Red pushes toward the southeast tip of Korea.

But the first phase of the Korean campaign is over, MacArthur said in a special communiqué.

OPPOSITION MARCHES OUT

Leopold Voted Back
As King Of Belgium

BRUSSELS (AP)—King Leopold was voted back to his throne by the Belgian Parliament today. He has been in exile in Switzerland since the war. The question of bringing him back split Belgium badly for months, with the Socialists particularly being bitterly opposed to his return.

A joint session of both Houses of Parliament cast 198 affirmative votes for Leopold's return, with most Opposition Socialists, Liberals and Communists abstaining in protest. There are 387 members in both Houses.

The decision was on legislation to end the regency of Prince Charles, Leopold's brother.

The opposition to Leopold was based in the main on his early surrender to the Germans in 1940 and his marriage in 1935 to a Flemish commoner after the death of his queen.

The abstainers marched from the chamber before the vote, leaving the pro-King Social Christians to vote Leopold's return. Paul-Henri Spaak, Socialist leader and former Premier, said the Social Christians in doing so had accomplished "one of the gravest and most disastrous acts of our history."

Outside the chamber, the opposition parliament members paraded to the royal palace to pay one final tribute to Prince Charles.

Even with all members voting, the Social Christians would have had sufficient strength to carry the day. The final ballot came after eight stormy days of speech-making which climaxed a year of political manoeuvring, plebiscite, an election, strikes and strife.

EDMONTON (BUP)—Recruiting in Western Army Command has more than doubled since the Korean war started, an official command spokesman said today.

He said there had been 111 applications motivated directly by the Korean war. Seventy were in Vancouver, 35 in Edmonton and six in Calgary.

Western Command covers Alberta and B.C.

Five applicants at Edmonton wanted information on how to get into the U.S. Army when they learned Canada was not sending ground troops to Korea at this time.

Rugged Going For Korea Troops

Relief map shows rugged terrain of South Korea, where United Nations forces are battling North Korean Communist armies. Mountains of interior are flanked on east and west by coastal plains. Roads in interior generally follow river valleys and occasionally cut through mountain passes. Main Red drive was down Seoul-Taejon road, with flanking columns pushing down coastal plain, crossing Kum River mouth at Kunsan and turning east toward Taejon.

CANADA LAUNCHES
RECRUITING DRIVECall Made For Up To 8,000 Volunteers
In First Stage Of Defence Campaign

OTTAWA (CP)—The armed forces today launched a big new recruiting drive for 6,000 to 8,000 men who will, among other things, open the way for expansion of regular air fighter strength to at least four times its present level.

These factors shaped up as defence headquarters waded into a new phase based on the perils emerging from Korea:

1. The recruiting drive will still adhere to the present tough admission standards, but consideration is being given to lowering them if they prevent enough men coming in. In some fields—fighter pilots, for instance—it would be pointless to lower the standards because men below them probably couldn't qualify.

2. Shortage of candidates qualified to be fighter pilots is one of the bars to a fighter expansion that should see the number of regular squadrons raised from two to five next year. Five squadrons, an authoritative source said, is not the limit. Eight would quadruple the present set-up and this is considered likely.

3. Less than 24 hours after the cabinet had decided on expansion, newspapers all across the country carried large advertisements calling for recruits.

4. Fighter plane production is being "more than doubled" and the orders for the F86 and CF100 jet planes are being increased. Until the three prototypes for the new naval sub-killer are advanced, it would be pointless to order more of those.

5. Army tank and artillery weapons and equipment are in an intermediate stage of development, forestalling orders at this stage. But some army equipment is being purchased.

6. Canada would not produce her own tanks; she would buy them from the U.S.

CARLINS GO TO SEA AGAIN
IN THEIR 'DUCK'

HALIFAX (CP)—Ben Carlin and his Boston-born wife have put to sea again in their amphibious duck, a converted jeep, and apparently are headed for the Azores, it was learned today.

The couple, who tried the crossing twice before, slipped out of the harbor without informing authorities.

They hope to sail and drive their half-boat half-car around the world.

Carlin is a 38-year-old Australian and former major in the Indian Army. His wife worked here for a time in a law office while awaiting the Atlantic adventure.

U.S. War-Scare Buying
Sends Up Price Of Food

NEW YORK (AP)—Retail prices of many foods in the U.S. reached high levels today, spurred by consumer war-scare buying and by sharply increased demand from stores and wholesalers.

Reports of "buying runs" on such items as coffee, sugar, shortening, olive oil and canned meats were widespread. Many stores said their sales were the highest for some time.

This upsurge of buying gained momentum despite repeated warnings by food industry spokesmen and members of Congress that it could lead only to artificially high prices, then rationing.

Retail pork items again led the meat price advances this week. Centre cut chops, for example,

President Did Not Go
Far Enough, Members Say

WASHINGTON (BUP)—Proposals for full-scale mobilization beyond President Truman's recommendations were advanced in the House today while the fighting forces moved to fill out their ranks.

In a round of speeches on the Korea war crisis, members of the House rallied behind the President's call for $10,000,000,000 of new appropriations and some wartime controls. Several complained that he had not gone far enough in his request for men, money, arms and controls.

Low Morale,
Training In Reds' Ranks

TOKYO (AP)—Morale and training among some recently-organized North Korean divisions are "stratlingly low," a United States headquarters communiqué said today.

North Korean troops don't surrender easily, headquarters said, because they fear they will be killed if they do.

The communiqué said intelligence agencies reported, as an example of low training and morale:

"The 15th North Korean Division was built around a nucleus of battle-hardened officers and men with Manchuria and China experience."

Specialists—tank and mortar crews, machine-gunners and other skilled personnel—trained in the North Korean army were added. In June, draftees were added as foot soldiers.

"My only regret is that the President did not call for complete and total mobilization," said Rep. George A. Smathers, D., Fla., an ex-marine who goes to the Senate next year.

Rep. Robert E. Jones Jr., D., Ala., introduced a resolution that would put Congress on record as favoring total mobilization.

Rep. Edith Nourse Rogers, R., Mass., said registration of women for war work "may well come."

Rep. James G. Fulton, R., Pa., urged his fellow Republicans to forget partisan quarrels with the administration in the conduct of the Korean war.

ADDITIONAL CONTROLS

Rep. Richard M. Nixon, R., Cal., said the President's requests were "the very minimum" Congress should approve. He urged the addition of Communist controls and standby authority over price control and rationing.

In the Senate, an agricultural subcommittee announced it will begin an investigation of food prices within two weeks. President Truman in his message to Congress, and the public Wednesday denounced profiteers and hoarders.

The Senate Armed Services Committee met to consider Mr. Truman's request for removal of the 2,000,000-man ceiling on military manpower, but had to postpone discussions of the matter until Friday morning because of other business.

RESERVES ALERTED

Mobilization was the first order of business with the armed forces. On the heels of Wednesday's army, navy and air force recall orders to individual reservists, the Marine Corps alerted selected reserve units for call to active duty.

The marine call will go out in the next 10 days, and will bring in some leatherneck reserves by units instead of individually as the other services are doing.

National guard units throughout the country also were expecting recall orders from the army at any time.

President Truman, meanwhile, said in a statement that it is "even more urgent now" than it was last spring to strengthen the collective defenses of the North Atlantic area. He is scheduled to submit to Congress shortly a request for more arms aid to the North Atlantic Pact nations and other non-Communist states.

Canada May Send

OTTAWA (CP)—A second group of Canadian transport planes soon may be switched to the trans-Pacific airlift for Korea, government officials said today.

TOKYO (UP)—Gen. Chen Yi, one of Red China's top commanders, and his 3rd Field Army are preparing to invade Formosa, the Chinese Communist news agency reported today.

SWAMPED WITH COMPLAINTS

Special Meeting On
Saanich Water Supply

Owing to a deluge of telephone complaints coming from many sections of Saanich about lack of water caused by easing of restrictions, an emergency meeting of the council will be called by Reeve J. W. Casey.

This follows the council decision Monday night to ease restrictions by allowing residents on their legal watering day to water their lawns and flower gardens at any time. Prior to that they had to wait until 10 at night.

Reeve Casey, back at work today after a bad bout with flu, said he was swamped with telephone calls yesterday from citizens suffering acutely from the decision to ease the bans on use of water.

Lord Glenforsa Dies

LONDON (AP)—Baron Glenforsa, 70, member of the Northern Ireland Parliament and former Minister of Agriculture in Belfast, died today in a London nursing home. He was a noted race horse owner. His family name was Herbert Dixon Glenforsa and he was raised to the peerage in 1939.

"I had at least 150 phone calls from many sections of the municipality throughout yesterday telling me about having no water. The people were angry," said Reeve Casey. He was still confined to his home by the illness.

The easing move came after the reeve had been taken home from Saanich Council by Constable David Shepherd late Monday night. The council carried on under the chairmanship of Councillor Leslie Passmore.

"If I had stayed I would have strongly opposed changing the restrictions," Reeve Casey declared. He could see no reason for the council decision.

The plight of citizens was brought to the notice of the Times Tuesday by an irate housewife on Synod Road speaking for all the residents of that road and Shorncliffe Drive.

It is apparent that the trouble was caused when thousands of citizens saw the relaxing of the restriction rules and turned the water supply on lawns and flower gardens. This robbed housewives of water for household needs. Many had totally dry taps.

ONE WOMAN'S DAY

By NANCY HODGES

QUEER NAMES

WHILE I was in Newfoundland recently I came across some oddly-named people, like the little girl at Carbonear whose first name was Brigus—because she happened to be born at the nearby village of that name, and the old man whose Christian name was Jigging. He told me that he was born at Jigging Cove, the last of a family of sixteen, by which time his parents had run out of names!

While those names are odd, they are not so strange as some of the "handles" with which other unfortunate children have been branded for life by unimaginative parents.

GIRL GORILLA

GLANCING, not long ago, over a parish magazine which comes from Totnes, Devonshire, I noticed an article by the rector of Buckfastleigh, near that English city. It dealt with odd names that had come within his purview over the years. He recalled that once he had been asked to christen a baby girl by the name of "Gorilla."

Startled, he asked the parents why. They told him they had seen the name on a placard announcing a circus, and liked the sound of it, especially as it "was the name of the lady who jumped through a hoop." The parson deliberately misheard them, and christened the child "Corilla"—and I haven't the slightest doubt that she grew up never realizing how close she had come to being labeled an ape.

HANDICAP IN LIFE

PARSONS, of course, know more about the queer names some babies are dubbed with than any other section of the public. That's why an Atlanta, Georgia, clergyman decided some time ago to do a bit of research into the extraordinary names borne by some of the members of his various flocks.

And what made him take up the study was the arrival of an ex-G.I. and his wife with their first baby daughter, whom they wanted christened Bataan, as a reminder of the father's experiences in the Philippine campaign. Nothing that the minister could say would change the parents' minds, so that poor child is destined to go through life labeled and dated.

WARS AND NAMES

HIS RESEARCH convinced the minister that wars always affect names. He recalled a spinster named "Manila Bay," who always declared that the reason she never married was because her name gave away her age—although I doubt if that was the only reason.

In that connection I will recall the number of "Mafekings" who appeared on the census forms of Britain after the relief of that outpost in the South African campaign. I only hope the Korean war doesn't have the same effect.

Baseball fans will recall Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis, the first U.S. baseball commissioner, but may not know that he was named after the Civil War battle of 1864. And, according to the minister in question, Judge Landis used to say how thankful he was not to have been born after the battle of Bull Run.

ENGLISH TWEED

THE American Civil War left a number of quaint names behind it, but among the funniest were "Breech-loading Cannon," which marked the son of a Revolutionary soldier for the rest of his natural life, and "Genuine English Tweed," the extraordinary name conferred upon a soldier who fought at the Battle of New Orleans. I wonder if he was "all wool and a yard wide"?

But such names, while they must have been a handicap to the bearers, were nothing compared to the obstacle imposed on the 15th son of a Puritan named Barebone. The unfortunate youngster was christened "If Christ Had Not Died For Thee Thou Hads't Been Damned Barebone." Despite that awful start, the son in question grew up to be a doctor of divinity, honored as "Dr. Damned Barebone." So who says "What's in a name?"

Early Resident Of City Passes In 92nd Year

A resident of the city since 1877, Mrs. Annie Emma Clarke, 2931 Earl Grey Street, died at Royal Jubilee Hospital Wednesday. She was 92.

Higher Taxes Seen In 1950 For Arms

Canada Expected To Continue 'Pay As You Go' Policy In War

OTTAWA (CP)—Gradual development of the Canadian war potential and expansion of contributions of men and materials to the war in Korea will mean that Canadians can look forward to increased taxation in the next fiscal year as a "real possibility," a government official said today.

A cabinet source said no special fall session of Parliament is planned to study the expanded defence program. He said the lid has been taken off defence spending and the international situation ahead will largely determine the amount of supplementary estimates to confront Parliament when it reassembles.

The forecast of raising funds to defray an expansion of defence costs through increased taxation rather than through the floating of a war loan is in line with the government's "pay-as-you-go" policy, the official said.

NO DEFICIT

He estimated the cost of sending the three destroyers and eight North Stars, Canada's contribution thus far to the Korean battle, will not be sufficiently high to plunge the government's current fiscal budget into a deficit.

Finance Minister Abbott had forecast a $20,000,000 surplus and the official said "this amount would be sufficient to absorb costs of sending the planes and ships to Korea."

But he believed it would not be sufficient to meet costs of additional recruiting among the three services, additional armaments production and the possibility of enlarged direct Korean contributions.

From other quarters, it was learned that discussions to expand Canada's armaments production now are going on.

If and when Canada requires tanks in addition to those she already owns, it is expected they will be obtained from the U.S.

Officials here also are questioning the impact of the U.S. price structure.

CONTROLS GRADUAL

Although no consideration is being given to a reinstitution of wartime controls, it is expected they would be imposed on a gradual basis if the huge American expenditure leads to widespread inflation in Canada.

The government already has power to reduce American imports under the import-export permits act, although it was not expected that it would take this move without asking the Commons.

One official said that a tip on whether the import controls would be brought into operation would be the reorganization of the wartime international allocations council which controlled the movement of scarce commodities.

The Golden Fleece got its name from the fact the ancients trapped gold dust floating down the river by submerging a sheep fleece in the water and catching the dust.

RETURN WATCH HELD 20 YEARS

CHICAGO (AP)—Alexander Frickel of Lincoln, Neb., wasn't a bit hopeful when he walked into C. D. Peacock Inc. jewelry store last month. He had left his watch there June, 1930.

Because he had no claim check, Frickel was told it would take a while. So Frickel went back to Lincoln.

The watch was found deep in the store vault. It has been mailed to him.

AT ARTS CENTRE

Turns Holiday Into Pictures Of Mexico

By AUDREY S.T.D. JOHNSON

For the next three weeks a one-man show will occupy the walls of Victoria's Art Centre on Broughton Street. The painter is Leonard Brooks of North Bay, Ontario, a prominent Canadian artist who has turned a Mexican holiday into a vivid record in oils and water color.

At first glance it is obvious that the artist has immense vitality and conviction. He paints with a sure, bold stroke and a fine feeling for rhythm and color intensity.

His gift for capturing character with a sensitive line and a deft touch is exemplified in three panels of thumbnail sketches of Mexican figures. There is a surging excitement and barbaric flare of color in several fiesta studies and foreboding gloom in a graveyard scene and in the depiction of a deserted mining village.

Mr. Brooks is an artist who can draw beautifully, yet at times he makes no attempt to do so, relying on color mass and contrast to convey his theme. The sureness with which he approaches his subject and handles his medium results in great atmospheric conviction.

At moments his work suggests the influence of the Spanish painter, El Greco, particularly in canvases entitled "Ruined Church, Tobacco," and "Lighthouse."

Carpenters' Picket Lines Appear

Fear Carpenters' Strike Will Spread As Men Walk Out On Two Big Jobs

Carpenters of the G. H. Wheaton construction firm went on strike today and the possibility of further strikes by other carpenters loomed.

The Wheaton men decided to strike in a government supervised vote Wednesday night. Of 62 eligible to vote, 54 balloted. When ballots were counted, 35 favored strike action and 19 were opposed.

Ernest Oliver, president of local 1598, United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners (T.L.C.A.F.L.), indicated the union would shortly press for strike votes among carpenters employed by other major construction firms in the city.

The union contends contractors who bargain through the Victoria Building Industries Exchange have failed to come to reasonable terms with the union for a 1950 work agreement.

TERMS BINDING

The exchange, on the other hand, says the union agreed to accept terms of a unanimous conciliation board report handed down in June and that those terms should be binding.

The conciliation board recommended an eight-cent-an-hour increase for carpenters, union shop security and a no-strike clause.

The exchange accepted the report and put the recommended wage increase into effect July 1. The new rate provides carpenters with an hourly pay of $1.63.

The carpenters' union has rejected the board report. The union says it wants an agreement comparable with the standard agreement of the Vancouver Island District Council of Carpenters.

To keep in line with the wage scale of the standard agreement, the local union will seek a further five-cent-an-hour wage increase to bring the hourly rate to $1.68.

FIGHT STOPPAGE CLAUSE

The union, at the same time, signified it will fight "tooth and nail" against the proposed no work stoppage clause.

Projects tied up as a result of the Wheaton strike included the provincial government's hospital insurance building on Michigan Street and the Strathcona Hotel addition on Douglas.

At the government building, all work was stopped. Laborers, electricians and plumbers who showed up for work decided not to cross carpenter's picket lines.

Normally, 24 carpenters, 18 laborers, 10 electricians and seven plumbers would be working on this project.

At the Strathcona Hotel, six laborers who reported for work passed the two-man picket line and set to work where they left off Wednesday. The pickets made no attempt to stop them.

Contractor Wheaton said that even though the union had previously threatened to strike he was surprised at the result of the vote.

He said he had no plans for dealing with the strike. He thought that as other contractors were concerned in the matter, he would let the Victoria Building Industries Exchange determine the course of action to be taken.

A meeting of the exchange was scheduled for late this afternoon.

No Conditions To End War, Says Attlee

LONDON (CP)—Prime Minister Attlee today told the House of Commons that ending the war in Korea cannot be conditional on acceptance of Communist China into the United Nations.

The statement, in effect, backed the United States rejection of the move by Prime Minister Nehru of India to seek peace in Korea by bringing Red China into the U.N.

Attlee set forth the views of the British government thus:

The immediate issue is to stop hostilities in Korea; Britain reaffirms support of the resolution of the United Nations Security Council calling for aid against North Korean Communist aggressors; and restoration of peace in Korea cannot be made conditional on settlement of other issues.

The Prime Minister said Britain will do what she can to match the "high purpose and resolve" which President Truman expressed Wednesday in a message to Congress.

Attlee summarized British efforts to swing Russian influence against the North Korean aggression.

He said that as the Soviet government is not represented at the United Nations Security Council on the Korean issue, Britain decided to establish direct contact with Russian in an effort to obtain her co-operation for a peaceful settlement.

Andre Gromyko, Soviet deputy foreign minister, had told the British ambassador in Moscow, Sir David Kelly, that the Soviet government also wished for a peaceful settlement and asked if the ambassador had any proposition to make.

Kelly replied it was the British government's wish that Russia use her influence with the North Koreans to stop bloodshed.

Attlee said that at a further meeting with Gromyko July 11, Kelly said the British government's preliminary suggestion was that the forces seeking peace should join together to bring about the cessation of hostilities and the withdrawal of the North Korean forces beyond the 38th parallel without concerning themselves for the moment with other disputes.

Kelly said hostilities were due to the North Koreans having crossed the 38th parallel. The best suggestion which the British government could make was to urge the Soviet government to add its efforts to those of other U.N. members by using their influence with the North Koreans.

Woodworkers Arrive At Final Terms

Final contract agreement was reached today between Bloedel, Stewart and Welch Ltd. and the International Woodworkers of America (C.I.O.-C.C.L.).

Tentative agreement was reached in mid-June, but the question of Saturday pay at one company plant delayed signing of contracts. The plant operates seven days a week.

Agreement calls for time and a half for Saturday as well as Sunday work.

Other points in the contract, including a wage boost of 12½ cents an hour and a 40-hour week, were settled at the same time 163 coastal operators came to terms with the I.W.A.

Marijuana Ring Smashed Police Report

YAKIMA, Wash. (BUP)—One of the biggest marijuana peddling operations in the Yakima valley in many years was believed today as police arrested four Mexican suspects.

The men were identified as Ricardo H. Chappa, 34, Yakima; Eli Rico, 18; Raphael Nieto, 48, and Alex Garcia, 18, all of Wapato, Wash.

Officers said the arrests climaxed a five-month investigation into the sale of marijuana cigarettes to Yakima high school students. They said investigation disclosed that 10 youths were involved in the purchase of the cigarettes at a price of $1 each.

Police said that after a member of the narcotics ring made the initial contact with the high school youths, the students went to Wapato to make subsequent purchases from members of the ring.

The four suspects were charged with possession and sale of marijuana. Officers said the drug was brought into the district from out of the state, and a quantity was seized from the suspects.

No War Boom Yet For U.S. Aircraft Plants

LOS ANGELES (UP)—Hundreds of job hunters milled outside southern California aircraft plants today, but the industry reported it did not know what to do with them.

Since the outbreak of the Korean war, the job hunters have thronged around the factories.

But aside from a few orders to overhaul mothballed planes, there has been no war boom in the industry. The only other work going on is on contracts previously placed.

The Korean crisis brought job applicants in droves, the major aircraft plants reported. Little hiring was being done, however, because no move for expansion could be made until officials know what the government wants.

Aircraft leaders said if the need for expansion did become urgent, the plants would be in a worse position than before World War II.

Current production is running about 2,500 planes a year, less than half that of 1940. From May, 1940, it took about two years to hit full production. Now it would take about 34 months to hit the same peak, they said.

Planes are bigger now and more complicated. A new fighter weighs about as much as a twin-engine transport of World War II. Electronic equipment and other devices add to the headaches of the job.

Truman Anticipates Events

WHAT HAPPENED ON CAPITOL Hill in Washington yesterday was very similar to that which occurred on April 6, 1917, and on December 8, 1941. The elected representatives of the people of the United States were asked to give the executive branch of their government the money and the means with which to deal with a disturber of the peace.

To be sure, the First Great War was 32 months old when President Wilson asked his country to support the Allies against the might of Imperial Germany. To be sure, the Second World War was 27 months old when President Roosevelt demanded of Congress that it authorize the great republic to go all out against the common enemy.

The sinking of the Lusitania, the Tirpitz order to sink "without trace" any shipping calculated to be of service to the enemies of the All Highest, the general flouting of every dictum in the decalogue of international dealing, bolstered the argument of the former Princeton professor in 1917. And although President Roosevelt and his opponent, that robust exponent of Americanism and American toleration,

Mr. Wendell Willkie (the great liberal without a capital L) had campaigned in 1940 on an identical platform of keeping the United States out of a foreign war, Pearl Harbor settled the issue. No exchange of political or economic dialectics could match the bombs dropped from Japanese planes on that fateful Sunday morning. We recall the facts of history for the simple reason that President Truman, in his address to the Congress yesterday, must have had in the back of his mind a collection of circumstances which, added up, emphasized the truism that the only language a bully understands is the language of force.

Nothing in the foregoing should be interpreted to suggest that the American policy is not tuned to the requirements of another global conflict. We interpret the President's request, by another token, as a warning to the men in charge at the Kremlin that they had better mend their ways in international dealings unless they are ready to run the risk of Hitler's end. For, after all, the peoples of the world who want to live in peace vastly outnumber those who subscribe to the totalitarian concept of life.

Canada Will Not Lag

THE SERIOUSNESS OF THE KOREAN campaign and the fundamental nature of the issues involved have led to significant decisions by those public representatives charged with the defence of this country. At an important meeting of the Cabinet in Ottawa yesterday the whole trend of Canada's preparedness for war was given a sharp acceleration. It was not in any sense a mobilization in the common meaning of the term, but it emphasizes our need for defence and provides for their immediate development quantitatively and qualitatively. In addition, our present direct involvement in the far eastern fighting will be augmented by the dispatch of a squadron of transport planes for service under United Nations authority.

In the wider aspect, efforts and expenditures called for by the democratic plan for global security will be increased. The Government will consider the provision of further aid to the joint undertaking of the Atlantic Pact nations. We may expect that the maintenance of defences for ourselves and our friends will result in a considerable drain on the public treasury and a corresponding increase in the demands made on taxpayers. That, however, should be viewed as an investment, whether on a short-term or long-term basis, which is well worth the cost. We have too much of value in our Canadian way of life to endanger it by default.

It will have been noted that yesterday's Cabinet announcement made plain that for the time being no "first line" Canadian troops will be sent to the Korean theatre. That decision, however, in no way closed the door to more intensive participation by the Dominion in Korean ground fighting. An indication of the possibilities may be seen in the fact that further consideration is to be given to the question of an international legion as envisioned in current United Nations proposals. It is felt by many, and with logic, that the land forces engaged under the United Nations flag should be fully representative of the member nations, even if only on a token basis. Moral support, much as it is needed, must be backed up by effective combatting an ideology which does not hesitate to use force in an attempt to achieve its ends.

Iran No Korea

ASSOCIATED PRESS CORRESPONDENT Fred J. Zusy writes from Tehran and informs the world that Iran will not be another Korea. He bases his conclusion on discussions he has had with "seasoned observers" who are familiar with the Soviet Union's ambitions in this oil-rich region of the Middle East.

As we have already pointed out in these columns, if and when Russian troops cross the Iranian frontier, with or without an invitation, with the dual objective of purloining the liquid wealth in which both British and United States capital is invested, and of gaining a foothold on the Persian Gulf, the Soviet Union would have to accept the responsibility for starting World War Three. For that one move in particular—and there are, of course, many other moves she could make with the same effect—would produce the explosion.

While no evidence is visible that Russia is intending to apply military force in Europe to gain ends she thinks she can reach by political infiltration, the strategic and economically-desirable sovereign independent state of Iran is one tempting morsel of the earth's land surface at which the men of the Kremlin never cease—using a vulgarism—to lick their totalitarian chops.

A.P. man Zusy, however, has given a first-hand account of conditions there as he sees and assesses them which makes informative reading.

A Job To Be Done

THE QUICK RESPONSE TO THE complaint of residents of one section of Saanich relative to shortage of their water supply was a welcome contrast to the long-standing hardship and annoyance endured by residents in certain other areas of the municipality. In the case mentioned, it was possible to make an additional connection to the mains, which resulted in increased pressure for the affected houses. The recent partial lifting of watering restrictions, however, has revealed how precarious the water supply is for those who live in the higher parts of Saanich. Easing the regulations has caused another spate of complaints about dry taps during the daylight hours.

The new reservoir being completed near Royal Oak is expected to meet much of the difficulty that has been experienced in past years, and final judgment must await its employment. It is evident, however, that if this measure proves insufficient, further steps must be quickly taken. It is intolerable in this day and age that homes piped for running water—whose owners have paid for the installations and the promised service—should year after year suffer the inconvenience and danger to health occasioned by water shortage.

Much Greater Sacrifice Needed If Final Victory To Be Won

By BRUCE ROSSAT from New York

THE government has wisely declared there will be no slackening of aid to western Europe as result of U.S. commitments in the Korean war.

Some members of Congress recently dropped hints that since they must now spend more in the Far East, they perhaps can spend less in Europe.

WRONG TACTIC

That's something like removing fire-fighting equipment from the western half of a city because the last couple of fires happened to occur in the eastern half.

The free world's deences against Russian communism must be world wide. Any appreciable reduction in strength anywhere would plainly embolden the Soviet Union or its satellites to probe the soft spot as was done in South Korea.

Naturally some of those who advocate cutting down on aid to Europe are isolationists who seize upon any excuse to justify "economy" on that continent. But others are honestly concerned that it may be Russian purpose to spread the U.S. thin on a multitude of fronts, to bleed it white so it may be too weak ultimately to resist.

The danger here is real. Yet there is no alternative but to take the risk. Anything less than fully effective aid to the free world's trouble spots is probably worse than no aid at all; it would give an illusion of strength that doesn't exist.

There is evidence that even before the Korean war the United States was not committing itself heavily enough to the military defence of Europe, that the sums already voted by Congress or pending there are not much more than tokens of its intent.

As for the Far East, the Korean war itself is proof that efforts to hold an Asiatic line against advancing communism were woefully short of the effective minimum.

The blunt truth is that the job is one of tremendous proportions. We are slow to get it through our heads that Russia is a far greater menace than was Hitler's Germany at the full tide of its power.

GREAT DELUSION

Up to now we have deluded ourselves that this combat with the Russians could be conducted conveniently and comfortably, at no large sacrifice in our relatively-luxurious postwar pattern of living. Possibly, however, the loss of American lives in Korea will serve as a sharp and necessary corrective to self-indulgence.

John Foster Dulles said the other day that all must now be prepared for greater sacrifices. Having seen Russian intentions nakedly exposed in Korea, we should all recognize the magnitude of our task.

Showdown?

By WALTER LIPPMANN

IT IS very difficult to believe that the Korean war is not part of a global plan of the highest consequence. It will be prudent for us to assume, it seems to me, that the purpose of the plan is to bring about a showdown with the United States, that the Kremlin has taken the risk of a general war but is intending without a general war to have the showdown on terms which are favorable to the Soviet-Chinese orbit.

THE western governments have not been acting on a timetable which indicated a showdown this year. Their military planning has looked to 1953 as the date when the Soviet Union would be "prepared" for war, when the West, therefore, must also be prepared for war. Mr. Churchill almost alone among the leading men of the West, has been saying that we had no time to lose and that the West should take the initiative in bringing about a diplomatic showdown designed to achieve a negotiated settlement. His advice has not been followed by his own government or by that of the U.S. The official theory has been that time was on the side of the West, and that several years hence we would be able to negotiate with a stronger hand; before talking we must first have the hydrogen bomb, 35 elite divisions in western Europe, tactical aviation to defend the cities of western Europe, Japan as our ally, and so forth.

IT LOOKS very much as if the Soviet Union had decided to have the showdown before their armament program and before ours had been completed. This is what usually happens when there is a race of armaments. The race is not run out to the theoretical finish when either, much less both, the contestants are as well prepared as they would like to be.

THE point is illustrated by a captured German document, known as the Hossbach Notes, which is quoted in the Compton report on Universal Military Training. These notes summarize the directives given by Hitler to his military and naval staff commanders at a conference on high policy which took place Nov. 10, 1937, nearly two years before the general war began in September, 1939. These notes show that Hitler had set 1943-45 as the outside limit for initiating aggressive warfare. "Beyond that date," says the Compton report, "he did not expect to maintain the preponderance of preparation achieved by the Reich. Germany's relative power would then begin to decrease, he argued, as the other European countries improved their military potential."

BUT as a matter of fact Hitler did not wait for the theoretical limit. He "advanced his schedule and anticipated his timetable of operations by some four years." He seized Austria in March following the Hossbach conference of November. Why did he not wait until 1943 when the German army would undoubtedly have been better prepared for war than it was in 1939? Because, as he told his officers, "Now there is a relationship of forces which can never be more propitious but can only deteriorate for us." It may be that Hitler was mistaken in thinking he had chosen the most propitious moment. The important fact, however, is that he felt bound to act long before the theoretical date set by the military planners and the armament program.

IT SEEMS probable to me that the Kremlin has come to a similar decision—to have the showdown now rather than later. There are, I realize, some who think that the Kremlin did not intend to have a general showdown but just hoped to pick a ripe apple in South Korea while no one was looking. I think this is a much bigger affair than that implies, and that the Russians have chosen, as their way to bring about a showdown the same basic idea which Hitler had when he incited the Japanese to attack America in the Pacific. That idea is to neutralize us in Europe.

The Russians know, as all the world knows, that the United States is not powerful enough to fight two full-scale land wars simultaneously in Europe and in Asia. The paramount decision of American strategy has been and will long continue to be whether to give priority to the Pacific or to the Atlantic. The making of this decision arouses strong popular feeling in the United States and tends to become a party issue.

IN THE past six months it has become a bitter party issue with the Atlantic party losing and the Pacific party gaining. The Korean war came just as a stronger Pacific policy was in the making. It has had the effect of engaging the United States very heavily in the Pacific.

The manner in which Americans became engaged in a land war probably surprised the Kremlin. But let us hope that the Kremlin does not find it a pleasant surprise—to have the main American forces in being fighting against a satellite of the second degree. For if it were to become deeply and thoroughly entangled in a first-class land war in Asia, the United States could not fight a first-class war in Europe.

MY GUESS is that this is what the Russians are after—that the general objective of their policy is to exploit the conflict between America's Atlantic and Asiatic interests and commitments. If this diagnosis is correct, then it is an overriding American interest to keep the war in Korea localized and to have it end without committing to the Far East not only most of the forces in being but the better part of the forces the U.S. will mobilize in the next critical year or two.

As Our Readers See It

WINTER WARNING

Last winter you published a warning from this writer to the general public and the authorities that, based on an extensive knowledge of natural science, there will be another severe winter in this area and the entire hemisphere next winter. I note that you recently added weight to that warning by advising the public to make all necessary preparation for such an eventuality. Others, whose scientific knowledge qualifies them to express an opinion, have also supported that warning.

If I may, I would like to repeat the warning with greater emphasis and an outline of additional important facts and factors.

The nature of our summer thus far, extremely variable, brief periods of warm sunshine followed by cool spells even chilly winds, bears out previous calculations that there is a major increase in the volume of cold air masses surrounding the earth's surface, and a major decrease in the counterbalancing warm air masses generated by the sun in the hemisphere which during the current season is receiving its maximum rays. The effect of this cause is that it only requires a brief duration of heat rays to draw in an overwhelming mass of cold air currents from the larger cold air mass to obliterate the temporary hot air volume.

That factor, noted on the short term, or day to day basis, gives additional support to the larger thesis on a seasonal basis that the overall period of warm weather will be reduced in length as well as the volume of warm air generated day by day. That means an early fall, a longer ensuing winter, when the existing, continuing, increasing cold air mass will result also in winter weather of increased severity.

As therefore, our desire is to reduce as much as possible the inconvenience and suffering experienced by the public, may we again appeal to everyone able to do so to stock in an ample supply of all types of fuel.

I have no interest whatever, financial or otherwise, in the fuel business, but there should be an immediate and large scale placement of orders for fuel for a longer winter, more severe winter, and to avoid interruptions in production and transport. Let sufficient orders be placed to call back miners to full scale production at once, or two months earlier than normal. It will help raise their standard of living by lengthening their working season, and avoid the overload and bottle necks of orders which tax the capacity of the industry in extreme weather, and run into transport difficulties.

Germans View The Korean War

By JOHN BARTLETT From Bonn

GROWING increasingly nervous over the continued Communist gains in Korea, the West German authorities are talking once again of reorganizing German military forces, although they hesitate to speak of a German army.

It will be recalled that last year Chancellor Adenauer suggested that Germans must be permitted to play a role in their own defence. At the time he stressed his belief that Germans should be recruited in their own units to be part of a Western Allied combined force under Allied leadership.

REPEATEDLY HEARD

This view is repeatedly heard again in West German government circles. What is more, Western Allied leaders are paying more attention to such views, although they have not accepted either the German thesis of the imminence of a Russian attack in this country or the practicability of creating a German force.

Both German and Allied officials, considering the problem, emphasize fears that remilitarization of Western Germany might accelerate the Russians into carrying out the very threat a West German force would be intended to ward off.

Some Germans of stature have suggested the possibility of training German troops outside this country. The Allies, however, do not consider this feasible. Furthermore, suspicion of all German plans for remilitarization is still strong. The Allies still base their policy in this country on the continued need for demoralization.

The nervousness of the German people is evident everywhere. Some hoarding of fats and sugar has begun already. The other day the Food Minister of Bavaria was forced to issue a statement deploring hoarding. Nevertheless, the editorials in the press reflect the psychology of the times.

In the days immediately following the outbreak of Korean hostilities, German newspaper writers heartily endorsed the American action in intervening. They said it proved that the Americans could and would draw a line against Soviet aggression and that this would have a salutary effect in this country.

The tone of the German press today is different. Based on gloomy dispatches from Korea, editorial views now stress the German desire to be defended rather than liberated. They deplore the wasting of time on such matters as democratization and demand greater emphasis on practical war against Communism.

WANT INCREASE

In this connection high German officials privately suggest that it is about time the Western Allies increased their armed forces in this country. This is an interesting reversal from previously oft-repeated suggestions that perhaps it would be a good idea for the Allies to "go home."

DIFFERENT MATTER

Windstar
We hope if the time ever comes when Canadians are called upon to fight Communists outside of Canada—to protect the free world, including Canada, from Communists—Mr. Duplessis will be equally ardent in seeing they are fought abroad as well as at home.

DE-MOTHING

Ottawa Journal
Hank Smith of Dovercourt, Alta., last year was troubled by coyotes, wily beasts with a taste for meats that can politely be called ripe. They snatched his lambs, threatened his calves. So Hank, a pioneer in science, bought five pounds of moth balls and dropped them in a path around the pasture where he kept the lambing ewes. Not a lamb was lost in that field. This year, naturally, he bought 15 pounds of moth balls and laid them all around his range.

Hank hasn't lost a lamb this year and the line of these who want to buy moth ball stock will please form on the right.

THE United States wants peace in Korea but has no intention of sacrificing principles and engaging in any horse-deal with Russia to achieve it. That, I take it, is the real significance of Washington's polite but firm response to the efforts of Prime Minister Nehru of India to mediate the Korean crisis. Out the window is the idea (approved by Prime Minister Stalin) that Communist China's admission to the United Nations be made a preliminary to negotiating peace in Korea.

There's only one acceptable qualification for peace negotiations. That is for the aggressors to cease fire and withdraw within their own borders. Then the issue isn't one between Russia and the U.S. but between Russia and the U.N.

In short, the U.S. is standing pat on its determination to meet Communist aggression wherever it shows itself, and fight it to a finish. There is to be no compromise.

Ample backing for that sweeping statement is to be found in President Truman's call on Congress yesterday for a $10,000,000,000 program to provide men and materiel for the Korean conflict and to guard against armed aggression anywhere else.

As so often happens, Stalin is wearing a halo of peace in his ostensible willingness to negotiate the Korean war if the U.N. will evict Nationalist China and admit Communist China to membership. In view of this let's take a look at, just what Red China's membership means to Russia.

The main gain would be in prestige for the Communist bloc. That would be considerable in the peace organization and might be far reaching in Asia.

We mustn't forget that while China now is a stricken country potentially she is one of the world's great powers.

The eviction of Nationalist China and the election of Communist China in the U.N. certainly would boost the stock of communism in many Asiatic eyes.

So if Russia could temporarily abandon the Korean venture and thereby gain international recognition of China, it would be a good swap for Moscow. She always could return to the Korean attack at an opportune moment.

HAVE THEM UNIFORM

Financial Post

At one time it didn't make a great deal of difference whether a stop street was marked one way in Winnipeg and another in Saint John. But it does now. Even if only one motorist in a thousand ever drives all the way across the continent, there are enough who do, to cause a lot of confusion and accidents, when they are not familiar with local traffic signs.

WORLD HANGOVER

Windstar

The delegates' lounge at Lake Success, scene of moderate but at the same time highly diversified drinking, also had a variety of remedies for hangovers. The bartenders who set them up there have made a compilation of those cures, and here are some of them:

China: Bird's nest soup.
Greece: Goat's milk and salt.
Siam: Raw sliced fish.
The United Nations may be the answer to world insecurity, but from the look of things its 59 members never will agree on a universal cure for a hangover.

Ups And Downs

By BRIAN A. TOBIN

"A LOT of us," said the Elevator Man, "don't know when we're well off. Now you take that woman in Paterson, New Jersey, who's sued her husband for divorce. She charged extreme cruelty on the grounds that her man used to sit her on his lap and embrace her and so prevent her doing her housework. She should be very happy now with her mops and brooms and nobody to bother her. The husband should be happier too. Holding hands is no fun if you're doing it in self-defence. Going down!"

"That youngster in Los Angeles," said the Elevator Man, "was in much the same situation as the housewife. He didn't know when to leave well enough alone. According to the news item, his dog bit his finger. So the kid bit the dog, to even things up. But then the dog bit the kid's other finger. The boy called it quits, or there's no knowing where it might have ended. Sometimes it's better to suffer a minor hurt and let it go at that, than to ask for more. But not always. Sometimes patient acceptance is just an invitation to further attack. These days you can get that statement affirmed in quite a few different languages—Czechoslovakian, Polish, Hungarian, lots of others. Even Korean, with a southern accent. Lower main!"

"A lot depends, of course," said the Elevator Man, "on what you get used to. What may look like a disadvantage to us may seem just the opposite to the fellow who's enduring it. You remember that yarn about the Irishman who was noticed wearing an unusual pair of socks—one red and the other blue. When someone spoke disparagingly of them, Pat disagreed: 'It's the finest pair of socks I ever wore,' he said proudly. 'And what's more I've got another pair at home just like it.'"

Pretty Sidney Queen Opens Festival

Pretty Eleanor Coward opened 34th annual Sidney Festival and Sports Day after being crowned queen of the festivities by Joan Woolridge, last year's festival queen.

Record Sidney Crowd Sees Crowning Of Festival Queen Eleanor Coward

SIDNEY — A record-breaking crowd numbering nearly 2,000 attended Sidney's annual festival at the War Memorial Park Wednesday.

Under a scorching sun, residents from the surrounding district and many visitors from Victoria, saw a parade, the crowning of the festival queen, sports and games of all kinds.

Refreshment booths were popular with their thirst quenchers. Entertainment included games of chance. Children enjoyed pony rides and races.

The parade consisted of decorated automobiles, trucks, bicycles and comic figures. The army and air force were represented, as well as girl guides, boy scouts and the Sidney Boys' Band.

First prize for the best float went to the Sidney Review, Mitchell and Anderson Lumber Company and the Sidney Cold Storage tied for second prize. The boy scout float ranked as the next best.

Major attraction was the crowning of pretty Eleanor Coward by Joan Woolridge, last year's festival queen. The queen was attended by Marie Gilbert and Betty Bradley. Rodney Coward was crown bearer. Patricia Bradley and Jean Rope were train bearers.

Luckiest person at the festival was 12-year-old Joyce Bowker, a majorette in the Sidney Boys' Band. She held the winning ticket for the deluxe-combination radio-phonograph.

The sports, in charge of A. W. Murphy, were followed by a Pro-Rec display. Four teams participated in a tug-of-war contest. There was also a softball game between Sidney Legion and Noble's Warriors, Victoria.

In the evening, Victoria Motorcycle Club gave a demonstration. A dance was later held in the Recreation Hall.

Festival officials said the event was successful from a financial point of view. Funds collected will be turned over for improvements to the War Memorial Park.

Warns Against Haste On Out-Of-Work Pay Raise

Percy R. Bengough, president of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, warned union people in Victoria Wednesday night not to be too hasty in asking federal authorities to provide greater unemployment insurance benefits.

Speaking before the Victoria and District Trades and Labor Council, the congress chief said that while greater out-of-work benefits would be welcomed by jobless persons, there was more to be considered than that alone.

"It is quite true the fund is a large fund but it is to be remembered it was built up in time of relatively high employment," he declared. "If we ever have a particularly long period of unemployment, such as we had once before in this country, we will find the fund is not too large."

He said groups advocating the government should make a greater distribution of the unemployment insurance fund should remember it is not the government's money.

"That fund was built up by workers' contributions and employers' contributions," he declared. "The government helped in only two minor instances."

(One instance, he observed, was when Newfoundland came into Confederation. The government then paid into the fund an amount estimated to give unemployment insurance coverage to workers in the new province just

Rejects Offer On Property In Oak Bay

An offer to buy one and one-half acres of property at 449 Victoria Avenue for possible development into a park and playground was turned down by Oak Bay Council Wednesday night when it was learned the owner, Mrs. Frances Edwards, had mentioned a sum of $10,000 or $12,000 as purchase price.

On the property is a log house, with the logs now shingled over, which was built in 1854 by Capt. McNeill, who at the time was in command of the H.B.C. paddle steamer Beaver. Mrs. Edwards said in her offering letter.

Acknowledging that the place had "some value as a historic landmark," but noting the suggested figure and the fact that Lafayette Park is nearby, council decided to advise Mrs. Edwards they were not in a position to accept the offer.

Float Calls For Sidney Ferry Return

Complete with smokestack which sent clouds of smoke over the parade route, the 24-foot ferryboat of the Saanich Peninsula and Gulf Island Review was judged the best float in Sidney's festival parade. The float called for the return of the ferry service between Sidney and the Gulf Islands.

THE HOME GARDEN

Cuttings Strike When Simple Rules Followed

By JACK G. BEASTALL

A cutting is defined as any part which has been severed from a plant and is capable of regeneration.

Cuttings are made necessary because many plants do not come true from seed, and the use of softwood stem cuttings is the method of propagation most often used by the home gardener.

External conditions being favorable, the ability of a cutting to root depends largely on three factors: the proper healing of the cut, the presence of, or ability to form, root initials, and a sufficient supply of food for the development of the healing tissues and the root initials.

Temperature, moisture, oxygen and light are important environmental factors. Bottom heat aids in the rooting of softwood cuttings, reduces the time required, and increases the percentage of strikes.

MOISTURE ESSENTIAL

Adequate and uniform moisture is essential. It influences the turgidity of the cutting and the physiological functions of absorption, translocation and photosynthesis.

Oxygen is necessary for the formation of the suberin (corky) layer, and it assists root initiation. Light has an influence on the processes having to do with the manufacture of food.

Chemicals, as stimulants for root development, have given success in instances where cuttings are normally hard to root. Some gardeners report poorer results from the use of rooting hormones, and it has been suggested that the talc, which forms as high as 95 per cent of the product used, prevents moisture from reaching the cutting, thereby reducing its physiological functions.

It is better for the amateur to soak the cuttings overnight in solution of the hormone, than to dip the ends in the dry powder. This was the original method, the powders being evolved later to speed up commercial operations.

Technical education projects to the value of $10,000,000 ($31,000,000) have been approved and are under construction in Britain.

Trades Council Backs U.N. Stand On Korea

The Victoria and District Trades and Labor Council voted overwhelmingly Wednesday night to support the United Nations' stand in Korea.

At the same time, the council refused to sanction a motion, advocating the acceptance of Red China as a full-fledged U.N. member.

Given 60 Days To Wreck Building

A shack-like building at 2413 Mowat Street Wednesday night was condemned by Oak Bay Council, and the owner, Philip Oliver, is to be given 60 days to tear it down.

The structure, said by building inspector P. K. Cunningham to be "practically falling to pieces," was considered a fire menace. A small roof fire occurred there recently.

Machinist delegate, Harold Thayer brought up both issues in one motion. Part of the motion called for support to the Indian proposal that Red China be admitted to the U.N. so as to forestall the possibility of a third world war.

Mr. Thayer said that while the democratic countries of the world might not be friendly toward the Communist nation that was no reason for keeping it off the international peace body.

Other council members disagreed. They amended the motion, deleting the part dealing with Red China, and passed only the part dealing with Korean action.

Rationing In U.S. If Prices Run Away

Hoarding, Speculation Would Be Foolish, Selfish, Truman Declares

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Truman said Wednesday night he is ready to order price control and rationing in the United States "if prices should rise unduly because of excessive buying and speculation."

"He spoke sharply of both practices, saying scare buying is 'foolish' and 'selfish,' and adding:

"Every businessman who is trying to profiteer in time of national danger—every person who is selfishly trying to get more than his neighbor—is doing just exactly the thing that any enemy of this country would want him to do."

The President reported to the country on the Korean situation in a broadcast speech.

In acid language, he referred to the attack on South Korea as "an outright breach of the peace and a violation of the charter of the United Nations." It proves "beyond all doubt that the international Communist movement is willing to use armed invasion to conquer independent nations."

"It was an act of raw aggression, without a shadow of justification. I repeat—it was an act of raw aggression."

Besides making clear his belief that "international Communism" must bear responsibility for the Korean crisis, Truman had sharp words for Russia's attitude toward the affair.

Moscow had refused a U.S. request that it use its influence with the North Koreans to halt the attack, the President said.

NEW WESTMINSTER (CP)—There are few mourners for a murderer.

Two women, unidentified, and the Roman Catholic priest who attended his hanging were the only ones present when Frederick Roger Ducharme was buried in St. Peter's Cemetery here.

Ducharme, a 37-year-old float-house dweller, was hanged at dawn last Friday for the slaying last November of Blanche Ferne Fisher, 45.

Rev. Gerald Hayes, Roman Catholic chaplain at Oakalla Prison Farm who comforted Ducharme the night before his death, said the mass and prayers at the graveside.

Leader Points To Progress Of Trades Labor Congress

Largest Organization In Canada Of Any Description, Says President

"The Trades and Labor Congress of Canada has made more progress in the last 12 months than in any other year and is not worrying about competition from any other source," Percy R. Bengough, congress president, told the Victoria and District Trades and Labor Council Wednesday night.

Speaking to the council a few hours after arriving in this city for a short "holiday," Mr. Bengough painted a rosy picture of expansion in the organized labor movement and told of some things for which the Congress is striving.

Mr. Bengough proudly revealed membership in the Trades and Labor Congress was now about 500,000. It was, he said, the largest organization in Canada of any description.

The congress chief thought because of this the federal government should give more attention to Congress suggestions and proposals.

He said the Congress executive was far from satisfied with the way federal authorities had handled appeals to take steps to solve Canada's unemployment problem.

He said that while the unemployment picture was now considerably improved from what it was last winter, the government had provided no means of preventing another period of widespread unemployment next winter.

From unemployment, Mr. Ben-

gough turned to the subject of social security. He said the labor congress was advocating a government social security program, worked out on a contributory basis.

He said the congress was not opposed to private superannuation schemes such as those now in operation in many large concerns across the country but would not like to see these schemes expanded too far.

Private schemes, worked out on an actuary basis, required workers to enroll at a young age (about 20) and stay with the one firm until they were ready for retirement (at about 60). He said "he knew of cases where people in their 30's had been refused employment by certain firms simply because they were too old to fit into a superannuation scheme of this kind."

Mr. Bengough feared that if these schemes were expanded to try and cover everybody, labor would be immobilized; workers would not have the opportunity to move from one city to another or even from one trade to another.

Clear Way For Fraser River Bridge Project

Works Minister E. C. Carson has been authorized by the B.C. cabinet to enter into agreement with the Cheam Bridge Company Ltd. for construction of a toll-bridge across the Fraser River between Agassiz and Rosedale.

Plans for the bridge were approved by the Legislature at the last session and since then the Cheam Bridge Company has been the only firm to make application to undertake the project.

Cost of the bridge will be in the neighborhood of $1,500,000. It is intended the bridge should be completed within 18 months from the date of signing of the agreement.

Under terms of the agreement, the company will undertake to construct, maintain and manage the toll-bridge for both vehicular and pedestrian traffic. The government will have the option of purchasing the bridge after 25 years.

Australia Plans Great Beef Sales To Britain

LONDON (Reuter) — Agreement between Britain and Australia on a plan to make Australia one of the greatest beef-producing areas in the world is expected to be announced here shortly.

The plan gives Australia a guaranteed market in Britain for all her surplus meat for the next 15 years.

A $5,000,000 ($15,500,000) capital-development scheme to open up large areas in northern Australia for cattle farming was put before the British government last year and a "gentlemen's agreement" reached whereby Britain undertook to buy surplus meat.

Australian sources estimate an eventual annual production of 540,000 tons of beef.

Shamrocks To Sport New Shirts

When you score five goals in one game in the Intercity Lacrosse League your prize is a new sports shirt donated by the Oscar Swanson and Ted Aides Sports Shop at New Westminster. Duff McCaghey, right, and Art Green of the Shamrocks were duly honored during the half-time intermission of last night's game between the Shamrocks and the Salmonbellies, when Ted Aides of the mainland firm awarded them shirts. Green got his five markers on the mainland, McCaghey at the Memorial Arena.

Flashy 'Y' Track Team Establishes New Canadian Record In Mile Relay

Nine members of Bruce Hamer's Y.M.C.A. track and field team were a happy lot when they stepped from the plane at Pat Bay last night, after competing in the U.B.C. twilight meet. They had a right to be happy, they had just set a new Dominion record and two B.C. marks, not to mention taking nine first, two second and two third places.

A 1:53.4 second half mile anchor-run by Bill Parnell and a sparkling 51.7 second quarter mile by sprinter Bob Hutchison, along with flashy 220's by Rafael Duke and Gordy Pynn, combined to set a new Canadian mark in the mile relay of 3:32.8. It was three seconds better than the established record set by the University of Washington at Vancouver in June.

Other record performances were registered in the juvenile events. Don Burgess set a new B.C. mile record of 4:43.1. The youngster ran a cool and calculated race, laying back for two laps before making his move, to run away from the outclassed field.

Edmonton Esks Tough With Eastern Stars

EDMONTON (CP)—Jackie Stewart and Earl Valquette of Hamilton had "better be in Edmonton by Sunday or they'll be through playing football in Canada," manager Al Anderson of Edmonton Eskimos said today. Anderson said he telephoned both Stewart and Valquette at Hamilton and gave them this ultimatum. He said Eskimos, whose coach Annis Stukus is going to turn out a thoroughly revamped line-up for Esks' second season in the Western Football Conference, have the Canadian Rugby Union cards of both players.

"They'll play for us or they won't play at all," Anderson said. Both were with Hamilton Tigers last season, Stewart a hard-running backfielder. Word from Hamilton is that officials of the local Tiger-Cats expect the pair to line up there.

CANADIAN GOLF WEST-EAST AFFAIR

Mawhinney, Hugh Morrison Carry Hopes Of B.C. For Berth In Semis

SASKATOON GOLF AND COUNTRY CLUB (CP)—There was a perceptible weakening today in the chorus that has been chanting "It's all Weslock" since the Canadian amateur golf championship opened Monday.

Nick, the brilliant Detroit-Windsor player, still ruled favorite but a little band of doubting Thomases hushed their voices after a look-see at yesterday's two blistering rounds.

There was a wealth of golfing talent left for today's quarter-finals, which were split down the middle in a strictly east-versus-west all-Canadian show.

The west was headed by Bill Mawhinney of Vancouver. The black-haired youngster has come through every round in the same strong fashion as Weslock. Behind him the west has three experienced players—Allan Boes of Winnipeg, Hugh Morrison of Vancouver and Vern Mohs of Edmonton.

Victoria's Bob Morrison went to the sidelines in the fourth round yesterday afternoon when he was beaten on the 20th hole by Boes. Morrison three-putted the green to drop the match.

KESSELING ADVANCES

The east seemed to offer just as strong opposition. Jerry Kesseling of Kitchener, Ont., like Mawhinney a former Canadian junior champion, has been playing consistently good golf through this tournament.

The east also offers surprising Don Doe of Granby, Que., who has methodically marched to the quarter-finals without any flurries.

The draw pitted Mohs against Hall, Morrison against Weslock, Mawhinney against Doe and Boes against Kesseling.

With that line-up, no one cared to predict the semifinals. Hall supplied the fireworks yesterday by winning 2 to 1 over both Owen and Glen Gray of Edmonton, who is no newcomer to the amateur.

Weslock had two comparatively easy rounds, though his 4 and 2 win over Otto McKush of Winnipeg was his closest margin.

Weslock was still pursuing a sore thumb from which he pulled a stiff while making a drive, but it seemed no handicap. He won 4 and 2 over Hamilton Dwyer of Edmonton and 5 and 4 over Don Gardner of Winnipeg.

Hugh Morrison was carried to the 19th hole by Don McAlpine, Ontario junior from Hamilton.

LOS ANGELES WANTS TO STAY IN COAST HOCKEY

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Owner Charlie Cord of the Los Angeles Monarchs hockey team said today he had made an offer to the northern division to take in his club as a seventh member of the Pacific Coast League.

The southern division has collapsed "through no fault of mine," Cord said, with the folding of the San Francisco, San Diego and Fresno teams.

Cord said he had offered to pay a portion of expenses for the six northern teams to make two trips here each season. A final answer has not been received.

Great Musial Hits Safely In 23 Games

Stan Musial on a 23-game hitting spree. Enos Slaughter in baseball's big six. No wonder the bounce-back St. Louis Cardinals today lead the National League.

Breaking out of a three-way tie for first place with a double rout of New York Giants, the Cards took charge of the race yesterday.

The Giants, beaten 12 times in their last 15 games, were unable to provide even token resistance for the rebounding Cards. It was 18 to 4 in a day game and 10 to 3 at night in a combined 30-hit attack that routed Larry Jansen and Sheldon Jones in the early innings.

Beaten three in a row by Brooklyn earlier in the week, the Cards' cause looked dark. Now they're back in control with three consecutive pitching gems by the southpaw trio of Al Brazier, Max Lanier and Harry Brecheen.

Lanier worked over the Giants in the day game. When the Cards piled up a 16 to 1 edge in seven innings, he retired to rest his sore toe. Brecheen went all the way in the evening romp.

Musial stretched his hitting string with a double in the afternoon and two singles at night but the big guns were Slaughter and Del Rice. Enos had six hits, three in each, driving home four, Rice hoisted a homer, triple, double and single to drive in six. Slaughter, Red Schoendienst and Eddie Miller hit homers in the day game.

PHILS SPLIT

The Phillies, one of three tied for the lead yesterday morning, dropped a peg by splitting two with Pittsburgh. Granny Hamner's 11th-inning homer with a man on won the opener 3 to 2 but the Pirates grabbed the second 4 to 2 on rookie Bill Macdonald's five-hit pitching.

Johnny Klippstein won his first big league game and hit his first homer for Chicago in his 11 to 3 romp over Boston Braves. The loss dropped the Braves out of a first-place tie. Roy Smalley hit his 15th homer, a double and single to back up Klippstein's 11-hit job.

Brooklyn's scheduled twilight doubleheader at Cincinnati was washed out until tonight.

With Johnny Mize leading the parade, New York Yankees cut another half game off Detroit's American League lead. The Tigers, now 5 to 1 winners over Boston, now sport a three-game margin over the Yankees who whipped St. Louis twice, 16 to 1 and 4 to 3.

Phillies Move

Two Farm Clubs

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Philadelphia Phillies plan to move their class A Utica, N.Y., franchise and their class B Wilmington, Del., farm team to other cities because of "staggering financial losses."

Where the two teams will be placed has not yet been decided, a club spokesman said today. But he added that several offers had been received and were under consideration.

How much money the Phils are going to lose by the end of the season at Wilmington and Utica was not revealed but the spokesman indicated it was enough to put the club's entire 12-team farm system substantially in the red.

McMillan Gets One To Relieve Tension

Shamrocks Whip Fishmen; Indians In Loop Lead

A hush came over the Memorial Arena crowd of 2,729. The gentleman fanning his wife's perspiring brow suddenly stopped. The Shamrocks' bench froze to a man. John "Red" McMillan was goalward bound.

Nothing odd about those things perhaps, but with McMillan packing the mail you could feel the tension in the building as Shamrocks and Salmonbellies were battling it out in their Intercity Lacrosse League fixture last night.

You see: Red McMillan hadn't scored a goal yet this season when these events occurred and everyone in the arena seemed to sense the drama that was taking place.

Seconds later McMillan was being mobbed by his teammates while a tremendous roar echoed through the building.

GAME A ROUT

The goal itself wasn't so important. It was the Shamrocks' 13th marker in their 16 to 3 rout over a highly impotent Salmonbelly machine and put the club within two points of the second-place New Westminster Adanacs. But to the ever-hustling defenceman it was the biggest marker of the season, his first in 18 games.

Apart from McMillan's performance and a red-hot display by the fishmen's goalie Garrie Carter in the first period the contest was little more than shooting drill for the Rocks.

The locals spotted Salmonbellies a one-goal edge then bounced back to lead at quarter-time 2 to 1. Three goals with a reply put the Rocks in a 5 to 1 edge at half-time. They added another trio in the third stanza while the Bellies were beating Bill Andrews but once in 10 tries and then rapped in eight goals for good measure in the final canto.

SIX GOALS, TWO MINUTES

It probably won't go into the records but some sort of mark must have been established during the middle portion of the final frame when the Shamrocks scored six goals in a matter of two minutes and 16 seconds.

Tom Druce and Art Green supplied the scoring punch each with three goals. Larry Booth, Norm Coates and Fred Ranson each picked up a pair while Duff McCaghey sliced three points of Jack Northup's lead in the scoring race with one goal and two assists. He is now three points behind the Adanac marksman.

Andrews also bettered his position in the goalkeepers' race stopping 23 of the 26 shots pumped his way.

ANOTHER DONNYBROOK

At Vancouver the rugged Indians moved into first place over the idle Adanacs by whipping Richmond-Kerrisdale 14 to 6, and for the third straight night on the mainland a near riot threatened late in the game.

Fred Davidson of Richmond was the culprit as he closed out a mild brawl with Indians' Glen Johnson by throwing his stick at referee Gordie Folka. Davidson ended up with a match misconduct and an order to report to the Intercity commission to

One Upset Marks Play In Island Junior Tennis

Favorites with the exception of fourth-seeded Phil Taylor advanced through opening rounds of the Vancouver Island junior tennis championships at the Victoria Lawn Tennis Club Wednesday.

Taylor went down to a surprising defeat at the hands of Auchincloss of South Cowichan, 7-5, 6-1. Favored Ron Birch had little trouble in eliminating Burt Bonnell, 6-2, 6-1. Ted Horsey trimmed M. Cheeke, 6-0, 6-1, and Mike Cromie took a three-set battle from Don Appleton, 6-3, 2-6, 8-6.

In the girls' section, Isabel Henley defeated June Orchard, 7-5, 6-3; Val Speed ousted M. McKenzie, 6-1, 6-2; Bev Koski defeated Barbara Rose, 7-5, 6-0 and Marie Earthy won by default from R. Hooper.

Pittsburgh Puts Out $100,000 To Buy Dillinger

New President Says He Wants Winning Outfit

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates began a new era today by writing a cheque for approximately $100,000 to acquire third baseman Bob Dillinger from the American League's Philadelphia Athletics.

Dillinger's purchase came a few hours after banker Frank McKinney of Indianapolis sold his share of the last-place Pirates to two partners—John Galbreath, a Columbus real estate man, and Tom Johnson, Pittsburgh attorney.

Galbreath, who not only became principal stockholder of the Bucs but president as well, left little doubt that he will try to bring a pennant winner to Pittsburgh.

ONE INTEREST

After yesterday's transaction, Galbreath said: "I'm interested in only one thing, a winning club in Pittsburgh. To that end, we will do whatever is necessary."

Although the Dillinger deal had been pending some time it didn't take long for Galbreath to dispatch general manager Roy Hamer to Philadelphia, where he concluded the transaction last night.

Manager Billy Meyer of the Pirates was elated at Dillinger's purchase. He said rookie third baseman Danny O'Connell, brought up only recently from Indianapolis of the American Association, might be tried at shortstop.

Dillinger has been hitting around the .310 mark this year, gained with 110 hits in 355 times at bat. He led the American League in triples with nine.

FROM THE FANSTAND

By PETE SALLAWAY, Times Sports Editor

With Lynn Patrick moving into the major hockey picture through his appointment as coach of the Boston Bruins of the National Hockey League, the possibility of the Patrick clan chalking up another first in the history of the great Canadian sport looms as a possibility. There is no father and son combination in hockey's Hall of Fame. Now I'm not so sure Lester and his elder son may not place the name of Patrick on even a higher plane in the annals of the sport.

Will He Be Third Patrick?

At the present time the names of two Patriks, Lester and his brother Frank, are on the honor roll of hockey's shrine. Lester won his recognition in 1947 while Frank gained the distinction this year. With Lynn apparently destined to move up into the front office with the Boston club he stands a double chance to gain the Hall of Fame—either as a coach or an executive.

Likely Successor To Ross

In luring Lynn Patrick to Boston, general manager Art Ross, at all intents and purposes, is attempting to do just what Lester Patrick had in mind—train a successor. After all, Ross is getting along in years and the time is not far distant when he will want to move out of hockey in an active way. When Lynn returned to his home town Lester was all set to prepare Lynn for the job of taking over his hockey interests. The elder Patrick would like nothing better than to sit back and enjoy his hockey as a spectator.

Now Lester has to remain in harness for an indefinite period. Lynn will not be back unless it is to retire. Patrick's other son, Murray, is well established at Tacoma and has never shown any desire to associate himself with hockey in this city.

Dunn Has Pulled His Weight

For a player who has been shifted all over the infield and even had a brief fling in the outer garden, Bill Dunn has done a pretty fair country job with the Victoria Athletics this season. Since the campaign opened up back in April, Dunn has worked at second base, shortstop, centre field and third base. Bill made his first appearance at third Tuesday night at Wenatchee and handled the so-called "hot" corner in workmanlike fashion.

It is to be hoped that before the season ends the A's will finally settle just where they're going to play Bill. Despite the continual moving around, Dunn is still hitting a creditable .280 and at the time of writing had driven in 46 runs. Never figured to hit much over .260, the jack-of-all-trades would likely have bettered his present mark if permitted to remain in one position. And don't be surprised if Bill is back in his original shortstop berth before the season closes.

Jackson In Hero's Role For Millmen

Barry Jackson, the young hurler up from junior ranks, pitched and batted the B.C. Forest Products to a 10-inning 3 to 2 win over the tough-luck Bluebird Cabs in a senior A softball game at Central Park last night.

Jackson came up in the top of the 10th after George Brown had led off with a double to centre. He lined a single to right-centre and Brown roared around to home, breaking up the two-all tie.

Cliff McKay, cabbies' first baseman, worked Jackson for a walk in the bottom of the frame, but the next three batters popped out to end the game.

Bluebird Cabs outlit the millmen eight to three, but some questionable strategy in the eighth backfired and probably cost Charlie McKay the game. The cabbies opened the last of the eighth with the first two batters getting singles. Bill Raftery, hitting away, got a line when Gus Hilton, the Forest Products third baseman, couldn't catch up to a pop foul. He finally worked Jackson for a walk to load the bases.

WALK FORCES IN RUN

Ben Ethier followed Raftery and topped a ball back to the mound, and Sansbury was an easy out at home on the force. Bob Embleton followed Ethier and duplicated his feat. Hugh MacDonald received the second walk of the inning given up by Jackson and that forced in Raftery with the tying run at 2 to 2.

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Leo Thomas, third baseman with the Kansas City Blues of the American Association, has been sold outright to the Portland club of the Pacific Coast League, Parke Carroll, Blues' general manager, announced today.

Carroll also said that Joseph Polich, shortstop, had been recalled from Portland. Thomas will remain with the Blues until Polich arrives.

Victorious Dauthuille Bids For LaMotta Bout

MONTREAL (CP) — Laurent Dauthuille appeared today to be headed for a crack at Jake LaMotta's middleweight crown. The husky Frenchman flattened Tuzo Portuquez of Costa Rica at 1:08 of the third round in a 10-round main bout at Montreal's baseball stadium last night before a disappointing crowd of 8,000 which contributed a gross gate of $29,942.

Dauthuille weighed 158½, Portuquez 162½. The 22-year-old Costa Rican was 2½ pounds over the 160 limit and Dauthuille's managers protested to the Montreal Boxing Commission before the fight.

The fight started at a slow pace in the first round as Portuquez adopted a low, crouching style which kept him out of range of Dauthuille's long-range artillery. But suddenly, after two rounds of inactivity, 26-year-old Dauthuille opened up and caught his cat-like opponent with a bruising right to the jaw. Portuquez went down on his knees but got up at once. The Frenchman closed in and dropped the helpless Costa Rican with half a dozen powerful rights to the head.

NOT HURT

Portuquez, who has won 79 of 86 fights, jumped to his feet after being counted out. He required no assistance on leaving the ring.

Maxie Waxman, Dauthuille's United States manager, said after the fight that he will issue a challenge for a title bout with LaMotta. He said that if LaMotta refuses to meet Dauthuille he will seek Sugar Ray Robinson, world welterweight king, as next opponent for his fighter.

Chairman Eddie Egan of the New York Boxing Commission said he thinks Dauthuille "has the qualifications to meet LaMotta" and that his commission would sanction such a match.

Victoria West Pair Bowling Semifinalists

VANCOUVER (CP) — Half-way stage in the 28th B.C. Lawn Bowling Association's annual tournament was reached last night and six of the 19 competitors were narrowed down to the semifinals.

Such swift progress was made in the Season (open) singles it had been narrowed down to 14 individuals; the Sparring to 11 and the Masterman to the same number. It is expected that semifinals in these three events will be reached by tonight.

The women also reached their semifinals in the champion of champions singles, and declared their sectional winners in the rinks event, as well as playing 13 preliminary-round games in the open singles.

S. Maddalen and H. F. Renfrew of the Victoria West Club are in the semifinals of the Oakland doubles, through beating P. Morrison and W. B. Knickerbocker of Ladner, 27 to 13.

Mrs. A. Shoeneman of Powell River advanced in the women's open singles with a default triumph over Mrs. W. Kenmare of North Vancouver, but Mrs. W. L. Parkin from the same town lost to C. Donevan of Mount Pleasant, 17 to 14. Mrs. Arthur Woodward of Powell River also went down, losing to Mrs. L. Register of New Westminster, 18 to 10. Last year's winner of the champion of champions trophy, Mrs. Bob Fletcher, also lost when Mrs. E. Morrill of West Point Grey upset her with a 15 to 4 count.

Neals Give Our Athletics Bad Night At Wenatchee

John Marshall couldn't end the Wenatchee jinx last night as the Chiefs copped another of those one-run decisions from the A's, 4 to 3.

However, big John wasn't around at the finish, and it was little Jim Propst, who relieved in the ninth, that got charged with the loss as the Chiefs pushed across a single tally to break a 3 to 3 tie for their 14th win of the season over the A's.

Shortstop Larry Neal was the A's nemesis, slamming a 370-foot home run in the seventh inning to put the Chiefs in a 3 to 2 lead after the A's had tied the score at 2 to 2 in the top of the sixth. Then in the ninth Neal bunted home the winning run with one out, catcher Len Neal scoring from third base.

The Chiefs got away to a two-run lead on Marshall in the first inning when John shut the door from then until the seventh when Larry Neal hit his four master.

The A's two tallies in the sixth came on a single by Gene Thompson, a double by John Hack, an infield out and a fly from the bat of Billy Dunn. Thompson drove home the tying mark in the ninth in the person of Bob McGuire who had walked in a pinch-hitting role for Marshall.

In the last of the ninth Len Neal walked, was sacrificed to second and stole third, from where he scored.

The A's wind up their three-game stand with the Chiefs tonight with either Jim Hedgecock or Aldon Wilkie doing the mound work. Friday the club moves into Tri-City for a four-game set.

CAPS DROP TWO

Vancouver sunk deeper into the league cellar by dropping a double bill to the Tri-City Braves, 6 to 4 and 12 to 0, while Yakima Bears were holding onto first place with a 9 to 0 triumph over Salem Senators.

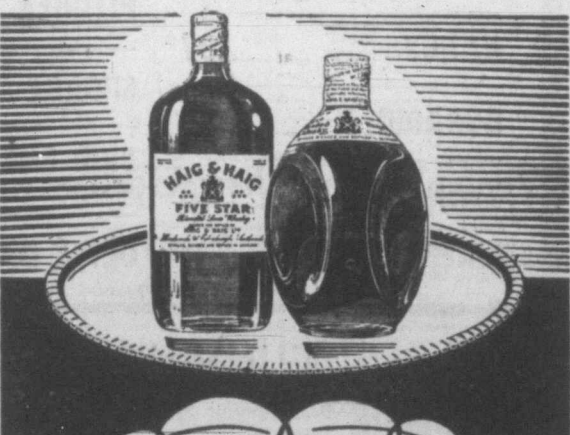

Tacoma Tigers lost a little ground in their battle to move back into the lead by splitting with Spokane Indians. The Tigers took the opener, 8 to 3, but lost the nightcap, 3 to 1, as young Bob Roberts, a Spokane high school product, checked in with a neat five-hitter.

New Defences May Be Half Billion

Canada's Manpower, Equipment Costs May Double Earlier Budget

OTTAWA (CP)—The Korean war has blown the lid off Canada's defence costs, already at a record peacetime high.

Following a cabinet meeting Wednesday, the government authorized an immediate, wide program that will add millions to the defence budget.

And there is no indication the program of accelerated Canadian defence effort—adding possibly 8,000 men to the regular forces, doubling the production rate of fighter planes and providing additional aid to the United Nations in Korea—represents the end of Canadian military preparations.

However, one significant phase in a statement issued Wednesday by Prime Minister St. Laurent was that "grave decisions may lie ahead."

The statement, on the heels of the $10,000,000 United States mobilization program, said:

1. Canada will not send any ground troops to Korea, "at this stage."

2. The government will immediately consider Canadian participation in any United Nations plan to recruit an international force for the Far East war. Such a step—the proposal is under study at Lake Success—would be submitted to Parliament for approval of any Canadian participation.

3. The R.C.A.F.'s No. 426 Transport Squadron, based at Montreal and equipped with four-engine North Stars, will join in the U.S. air lift for Korea but will not take part in the actual fighting.

4. All three forces are to ignore the present manpower ceilings and bring their regular forces to fighting strength. Present strength is about 47,000 men.

No official estimate of the cost of the program has been given. Senior officials said Wednesday night it may take weeks to determine it. However, some officials indicated it may lift Canada's record defence budget for this year from $425,000,000 approved by Parliament to more than $500,000,000.

NEW TAXATION

Should the tense international situation continue, or grow worse, the resultant boost in Canada's defence spending will probably mean some form of increased taxation. Finance Minister Abbott forecast a surplus of about $20,000,000 for the current fiscal year and that amount could be quickly eaten up by the new defence measures.

Any proposal to increase taxes probably will not be considered much before the budget is brought down next spring.

In his 650-word statement, Mr. St. Laurent described the Communist aggression in Korea "a breach in the outer defences of the free world."

"We are increasing immediately our defence efforts and expenditure. We are also giving consideration to further measures of aid by this country to our North Atlantic partners."

Named as alternate delegates were V. Baines, Mrs. M. Burgoyne, and C. Davis.

Labor Delegates For Convention

Members of the Victoria and District Trades and Labor Council have chosen three of their officers to represent the council at the forthcoming convention of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada to be held in Montreal.

The council members made their selection at a meeting Wednesday night.

Elected as convention delegates were Charles Peck, council president; Percy Raymond, council secretary; and Harold Thayer, chairman of the council's credentials committee.

Named as alternate delegates were V. Baines, Mrs. M. Burgoyne, and C. Davis.

Two-Headed Calf Being Sent To U.S.

RANDERS, Denmark (Reuter)

A two-headed calf born here three months ago is to be flown to the United States for investigation by veterinary experts. The calf is believed to be the only freak of its kind to have lived longer than a few hours. Apart from its two heads it is perfectly normal.

There now are 22,250,000 people at work in Britain—22,000 more than at the end of 1949.

Says Peace Council Led By 'Kindly Elderly Ladies'

The Victoria and District Trades and Labor Council, at its meeting Wednesday night voted unanimously against affiliating with the Victoria Peace Council.

The labor group made its decision on the recommendation of a two-man committee comprised of Harold Thayer and Percy Raymond. The committee was appointed at a previous meeting to look into the organization of the peace body before the labor council acted on an invitation to join.

The committee recommended the Peace Council here did not warrant support of labor organization in the district.

Committee-man Thayer said he found "kindly elderly ladies heading up the Peace Council who seem unaware of political strings being pulled behind their backs."

He said he found the Labor Progressive Party well represented at a Peace Council meeting he attended.

The man believed to have the longest name in the world was at Toronto in 1949: Diwan Bahadur Sir Tiruvalyangudi Vijayaraghavacharya.

FRASER DIKE OVERTIRED

MATSQUI (CP)—More than 100 feet of dike collapsed here Wednesday, just one month after the flood danger passed in B.C.

A dike official said the rampart was "just tired with no water to lean on and fell over."

Veterans Watching Progress Of War

'Will You Join Up Again?' Is Question Frequently Asked

Though ex-servicemen in Victoria are watching closely developments in the Korean war—including the part being played by this country—there has been no increase in recruiting in the city since the conflict started nearly four weeks ago.

Children's Zoo In Victoria Wins Favor

Ald. Duncan McTavish, chairman of the parks committee, went on record today as being in favor of establishing a children's zoo in Victoria.

Commenting on a suggestion from parks administrator W. H. Warren that Victoria could have a children's zoo for about $3,000, Ald. McTavish said it was a good idea and had been considered some time ago by the parks committee.

"Children's zoos are popular features in many large and small U.S. parks," he said. "They are stocked with only young animals and cost of upkeep is small."

While attending the Northwest Park Association convention in Seattle two weeks ago, Mr. McTavish said he visited a children's zoo and was impressed with what he saw.

"It was very popular with children," he said. "Zoo of this type have an educational value."

The zoo could be established in another park if Beacon Hill Park was unsuitable, he said.

Yachtsmen To Go Ashore—But Only For Their Picnic

The yachtsmen are going ashore.

Not that the Royal Victoria Yacht Club is folding or anything like that—but members, their wives and families will spend Sunday on the beach for a special reason—the annual club picnic.

Never a group to cut out their sailing entirely, the yachting clan will travel in their boats to Chatham Island for the event.

During the day, there will be swimming, races for young and old and a treasure hunt.

R.V.Y.C. flag officers will entertain adults aboard their boats anchored at the island, while the children are getting pop and refreshments ashore.

Those needing transportation to the island have been asked to be at the clubhouse between 1 and 3 Sunday afternoon.

Boy Car Prowlers Escape In Dash From Policeman

An officer on city police special detail to round up car prowlers scored a near-miss in his efforts to catch two young culprits shortly after 1 this morning.

There were two new cases of cars, one belonging to a tourist, being broken into and prowled Wednesday night in Victoria and provincial territory.

Constable Thomas H. McArthur was keeping a close watch in the vicinity of the Empress Hotel when he spotted two boys trying to get into cars.

The officer chased the boys, estimated to be aged 15 and 12, south on Government Street, through the Parliament Buildings grounds and along Quebec Street where they disappeared.

Car of Eunice Cook, 4420 E. Lee Avenue, Tucson, Ariz., was broken into. It was parked at Humboldt and Government Streets. Stolen was a small black cosmetics case containing toilet articles and a birth certificate.

At Thetis Lake a car owned by Otto Mehrer, 129 Medina Street, was broken into during the afternoon. A quantity of men's and women's clothing were stolen, also a woman's purse containing $3 and two sets of earrings. The Mehrers were preparing to leave on a holiday.

In both cases cars were entered by breaking small ventilating windows.

Seeking the position left vacant by the death of Commissioner Howard Mellor are Lt.-Col. R. B. Longridge and J. P. A. Christensen.

Backlog Of Orders, Defence Jobs Enough To Keep Mills Busy

B.C.'s lumbermen expect the U.S. market to hold up despite President Truman's announcement that home building in the United States will be curtailed.

A spokesman for the B.C. Lumbermen's Association in Vancouver told the Victoria Times today the general feeling of members was that lumber which would have gone into homes will be shipped as anticipated and will be diverted to defence projects.

The association represents 55 mills which account for 90 per cent of this province's lumber production.

From 50 to 65 per cent of lumber produced here goes to the United States. No slump is expected since there is currently a backlog of orders for 359,271,000 board feet enough to keep the mills busy for from two to three months.

SOFT MARKET

The lumber market in the U.S. last fall was termed "soft" by the association representative, who said that prices went too low, and the result was the sudden rise recently.

"But the present U.S. market is very firm. We do not expect the situation there now will affect us at all," he said.

Latest available figures show production in this province is up considerably over last year. In May, 1949, mills of the association turned out 146,135,000 board feet of lumber. In the same month this year, the figure was 186,933,000.

Of this amount 54.9 per cent went to the United States, 16.9 per cent went to other countries, and the remaining 28.9 per cent was used domestically.

INJURED IN FALL

A cut over the left eye requiring three stitches was suffered by Frank Hastie, 375 Johnson Street, in a fall on the sidewalk on Yates Street Wednesday evening. He was taken to Jubilee Hospital by city police.

Hanger Holds Coat, Skirt Takes Little Closet Space

By PENNY SAVER

Saving space in a closet is a year-round bugaboo with most of us, but always more so during summer months. With many more summertime togs and trappings to cope with, every inch of space is precious. That's when the hanger department comes to the fore. A hanger set that caught my attention this morning was complete with a frame for suit, coat or jacket and skirt. You can hook and unhook the skirt holder to the lower bar of the coat hanger. For 89 cents the set is yours.

In the same department was a metal frame that, once secured to the wall in your closet, bathroom, bedroom, hallway or even in an office, will open up and extend a long arm to hold anything from blouses to coats with nary a complaint. When you have occupied each hanger on the long arm you can then push the whole thing up and flat against the wall, right out of the way. To dry clothes indoors this type of holder is ideal. Pay the clerk the $1.98 and you can take it home, the hanger that is!

Versatility and then some, describes a fountain auto washer. Made of aluminum or plastic, the foot-long handle sports a fluffy mop suitable for washing the family car, outdoor furniture, screens, windows and shutters. To use the mop, all you do is attach the handle to the garden hose and the water swooshes up and out through the centre of the washer. Providing you don't get the mop tangled up in oil or goo the strings of the mop will never mat. The price, you say? Why, $1.98!

If we snookums... whether a few or many months old... is going to make his first trip in a motor vehicle, better make him comfy in a specially built auto seat. The metal frame fits firmly over the front seat and supports junior in a red or blue gabardine seat affair, complete with belts to hold the tot in place. Originally selling for $2.09 the seat now costs $1.79.

Household Hints Department—Starts off the day with a bang, doesn't it, when you find you've neglected to save milk for your early morning breakfast? It is possible to keep milk from going sour overnight by putting the bottle in a saucepan of cold water.

However, it is wise to keep a good supply of condensed milk on hand. To ensure freshness of bottled milk it should be taken into the house as soon after delivery as possible and the bottle cap washed in cold running water before opening or putting away.

IN STEP WITH STYLE

By MARGUERITE DALZIEL

This summer's lacework and barefoot styles in shoes makes pedicures as important as manicures for tip-toe beauty.

Lacy, Barefoot Sandals Draw Spotlight To Feet

Brief sandal and strap models are hitting an all-time high in popularity this summer. If you have just become the proud owner of a fetching pair of lacework sandals, you want to be doubly sure that you are the owner of a trim pair of feet that will show them off to advantage.

This warning is not just for the young women with well-tanned legs who go stockingless, but also for the wearer of sheer nylons, which tend to reveal rather than conceal.

During the winter we've been able to get away with quick nail trims and hasty pedicures.

Now is the time to catch up on good intentions.

Toenails should be filed with an emery board into modified almond shapes, wider than they are long. Never let the nails extend beyond the ends of your toes if you want to preserve your stockings.

Cuticles which have grown scraggly during their untended months can be eased back into place with your thumbs. Both toenails and thumbs should be lubricated with a rich cream before beginning this process.

Clean your feet with disinfectant solution made by adding three drops of ammonia to one teaspoonful of peroxide. A good tool for swabbing under nails is an orange stick with a bit of cotton twisted around one end.

Next, scrub the toenails with soap and water. A cold rinse and a thorough drying finish the cleaning routine and you are ready to add nail polish for a touch of glamor.

Here is a good remedy for tired, aching feet, as well as a beauty treatment:

When you are taking a bath, scrub your feet with a nail brush to remove roughness. For rinsing, hold your feet first under hot water, then cold. Do this several times to take the tiredness out of your feet.

Then for a wonderful cooling sensation, slosh cologne over your feet. Or for a more elaborate treatment, wring out a pair of clean white socks in which hazel and pull them on, following the foot bath. Lie down with your feet elevated and stay in this position for about 10 minutes.

Massage soothing cream into the toes, soles and heels.

Always remember to powder your feet before donning stockings—especially between the toes.

And to ensure all this barefoot care, make sure your shoes are sufficiently roomy. Feet tend to swell in warmer weather.

NATURE'S ERRORS

Women Out Of Shape Says U.S. Corset Association

NEW YORK—The world is out of shape today—and so are more than eight out of 10 women.

This melancholy statistic isn't based on one man's roving observation. It comes from the Corset and Brassiere Association of America.

"Of the 55,000,000 U.S. women above the age of 15, at least 85 per cent are overweight, or lack symmetry in the vicinity of bosoms, waist or hips," said Fletcher D. Dodge, executive vice-president of the association.

What depresses me about this estimate is that Fletcher doesn't even include the women with jut jaws, knobby knees, bowed legs, suitcase feet, or blacksmith's biceps.

No, all he surveys is the corset toge. To correct nature's errors in this area women of America in 1950 will spend $400,000,000 or more for girdles, pantie girdles, brassieres, bandeaux, corsets, corselettes, falsies and garter belts.

Every year about this time Fletcher reviews the status of the American feminine shape. He is a stern critic and invariably finds something wrong with it.

Fletcher says the American woman has grown taller and wider-hipped in the last five years, but that she still prefers the same shape that has been popular for the last half-century.

Here is his latest breakdown of the composite American woman:

Height, 5 feet, 3 inches; weight, 133 pounds; bust, 35 1/2 inches; waist, 29 inches; hips, 38 inches.

And, a bit gleefully it seems, Fletcher added still another dismal fact:

"Of 1,661 women measured in a Department of Agriculture study, only 126 qualified as 'the perfect 36'."

Polished but uncut gem stones are being set in precious white palladium or gold in the latest jewelry fashion. Designers may build designs around oval or odd-shaped uncut stones such as emerald, jade and tourmaline.

Guests were Mrs. E. C. Head and Mrs. John Fennell and the Misses Frances E. Leeming, Dorothy I. Harding, Eileen M. Bennett, Clarisse M. Cauter, Irene E. Fletcher, Dorothy M. Roberts, Jo Murray, Isabel N. Boates and Shirley R. Baker.

A large white swan was filled with gifts for Miss May McAvoy, whose marriage takes place this week, when Misses Shirley Bertram, Betty Bertram and Dorothy Green entertained in her honor at a miscellaneous shower at the home of Mrs. A. Walton, 3997 Glenknap Road. On her arrival the honor guest was presented with a white gardenia corsage bouquet. Mrs. E. McAvoy, mother of the bride-elect, and Mrs. J. Lindal, mother of the groom-elect, received corsage bouquets of roses. During the evening games were played and refreshments served. Guests were Mesdames F. Bertram, K. Collins, G. Newell, and Miss Barbara Lindal.

Attached to streamers, gifts appeared to spill out of a decorated water can for Miss Shirley Fennell, whose marriage takes place this month, when Miss Irene Wilson, 3133 Delta Street, entertained at a miscellaneous shower in her honor. On her arrival the honor guest was presented with a corsage bouquet of sweet peas. Similar corsage bouquets of sweet peas were received by Mrs. G. Fennell, mother of the bride-elect, and Mrs. Head, mother of the groom-elect. During the evening games were played and assisting the hostess in serving refreshments were Misses Genevieve Miller and Betty Garnett. Guests were Mesdames K. Wilson, F. Garnett, Misses Dorothy Fennell, Ruth Wilson, Dorothy Bradshaw, June Taylor, Joan Morgan, Beverley Dutoit, Jean Copp and Clara Stoddard.

Time was, 20 years ago, when size six and one-half in women's shoes was considered large. Today, the most popular women's shoe size, according to the shoe industry, is seven, or seven and one-half, in A and B widths. Only about four women in 100 wear size five or smaller, and more than 40 out of 100 wear size eight or larger.

DOROTHY DIX

Dear Dorothy Dix: We have two friends who were married several years ago. The wife cares nothing for her husband. She cheapens herself in flirtations and is unfaithful to him. The husband worships his wife and does not suspect her. He is the type of man who might really become desperate. What can be done about this mess? Shall we tell the husband?

TWO ONLOOKERS
Answer: Never interfere between a man and his wife unless you want to get into trouble yourself. Telling the husband that his wife doesn't love him and has affairs with other men won't make her fond of him or true to him. It will serve no good purpose.

Murray's Dancing Daughter In Town

By AILEEN CAMPBELL

Being the boss's daughter can have its drawbacks.

Take it from vivacious Jane Murray, a native New Yorker, twin daughter of Arthur Murray of dancing school fame, who is spending a brief holiday in Victoria, as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert W. Richards on Rockland Avenue.

Interviewed in between a couple of fast sets of tennis on the Richards' private court, Wednesday afternoon, Miss Murray said she joined the promotion department of the new and ultrasophisticated magazine Flair, at New York last February.

"I found following in the family's business isn't always the best idea," she laughed with a toss of her short-cropped brown hair. "I was a teacher in my father's studios in New York. It was certainly most interesting work and you meet a great many more people than in other occupations."

"However it was difficult to keep the idea of Daddy and 'the boss' separate. Of course I called him Mr. Murray at the studio and then I would go home and realize I was still thinking of him as my boss, and unconsciously playing up to him as such."

Both she and her twin, Phyllis, were teachers at the studio and both used different names so there would be no thought of favoritism.

"If someone liked our teaching and asked for us again we knew it was not just because we were the boss's daughters. Also no pupil could get the idea he was being given special attention by the studio."

Miss Murray's parents have offices side by side in the New York headquarters and she admitted it was a "tough decision" to leave their business and one she liked. Her sister left to get married.

"Teaching dancing is really more of a job than most people imagine," she said. "You are dealing with all types of people, with those twice your age and again, those half your age."

"There is a great sense of satisfaction when you feel that a pupil who is very shy is being helped by the lessons. We have girls who come in for lessons on their lunch hour."

When asked the age limit for pupils she laughed:

"As long as they can stand on their feet. We have one professional man in New York who must be in his 80's and he is one of our liveliest pupils."

Working hours of dancing teachers are mostly from 2 in the afternoon to 10 at night, with the result that much of their social life revolves around their work and the people they work with, Miss Murray said. For a time she was production assistant for the Jink and Tex McCrary radio show from New York, the former being Jim Finkenber.

On this her first trip west, Miss Murray said Victoria was the kind of place New Yorkers dream about especially when they want to retire from business.

She will leave the city early next week for Portland.

The I.O.D.E.'s bid of $100,000 was accepted by Queen Mary for her hand-made carpet which took eight years to complete.

Summer School Teachers Honored By Home Economists

Books and pencils were stored away, and facts and figures forgotten temporarily as home economics teachers attending summer school donned their prettiest chapeaux, and gay summer frocks or trim suits, to attend a tea hour party especially arranged for them by members of the Victoria Home Economists Association, yesterday afternoon.

The attractive home of Mrs. Mary Guild, 1145 Woodstock Avenue, was the party setting where approximately 70 teachers, visiting home economists and local members gathered.

Charming hostess, Mrs. Guild, first director of home economics at Manitoba University, welcomed guests representing this province, Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba.

Mrs. L. E. Gower, president of the local association, and Miss Bertha Rogers, director of home economics for Department of Education, here, assisted.

Guests mingled informally and exchanged vital statistics in the form of "how long have you been teaching? where? and do you like it?"

Each was registered by Mrs. Ken McAllister, and presented with identification cards.

Presiding at tea urns were Mrs. G. Halton, Vancouver; Miss Isabelle Elliott, city supervisor, home economics, Vancouver; Miss Lenora Pantan and Mrs. Gower.

The attractive tea table centerpiece and bright blossoms decorating reception rooms were arranged by Miss Yvonne Love. Assisting general convener, Mrs. H. J. Seats were Mrs. B. Norberry, Miss Lila Milne, Mrs. Muriel Fraser and Miss Mary Robertson.

A special guest was Miss Shirley Walker, a former president of Victoria Home Economists Association, who is now on the staff of Corvallis University, Ore., as instructor of clothing in the school of home economics. She is spending the summer with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Walker, the Uplands.

Among those attending were Miss Mary Campbell, who is teaching a course in advanced clothing problems at summer school. She is home economic teacher at Lord Byng High School in Vancouver.

Another interesting guest was Mrs. Kathleen Dawson, Gordon Head. Mrs. Dawson, who will teach at Belmont High School, is formerly of Malaya. She taught household science there during war years and then, upon evacuation, joined the women's territorial service in Kenya. She and her husband made their home in Malaya for 18 years.

Mrs. Hazel Hodson presided and Mrs. H. R. Clark, treasurer, reported a favorable balance and sales of weaving encouraging. Mrs. Earl Spicer gave a short paper on her impressions of the exhibit and Miss Marie Forman, a weaver from San Francisco, praised the work of the guild.

CHAPTER VIII

Little Doc soon regretted his remark about wasting valuable time. The tall man settled down to a long, steady trot—the cow-hand's trail gait, which is no hardship at all on a man who is used to spending long hours in the saddle. But every trot step was torture for the blindfolded John Sand.

Little Doc clung to the saddle horn with both hands. He tried to stand in the stirrup leathers that rubbed his shins raw. Every inch of the ride, which must have been 10 or 12 miles and to Little Doc it seemed like a hundred miles, was torture. He was gray with pain and fatigue and dizzy from being blindfolded when at last his captor drew up.

"Get off your horse," the tall man broke his long silence as he dismounted and stood beside Little Doc's mount. "We're going the rest of the way afoot."

During the long ride, Little Doc's blindfold had slipped a little—enough for him to look around.

It was getting daylight and he could see a lot of brush and rocks and the muddy water of the Missouri River. They had not crossed the river yet and Wolf Point was on the north bank. He could make out a clearing and a horse pasture that held a lot of horses. A round pole corral and a log barn and cabin with the door closed.

IDENTIFIED

Little Doc was so stiff the man had to drag him from the saddle and steady him until he got his footing. Then he untied the black bag from the saddle. The black silk handkerchief the man wore for a mask had slipped down around his neck and Little Doc got a good look at him. He was a big rawboned man with a long thin nose and underslung jaw and pale-mean eyes.

Doc remembered the man now. He was one of Blackjack

Statement Ruled Out At Trial

MONTREAL (BUP) — Testimony linking Deputy Provincial Police Director Hilaire-Beauregard to the suspected bank robbery plots of two of his men and an ex-detective was ordered stricken from the records Wednesday.

Charles Emile Poliquin, 28-year-old suspected bank robber, was cross-examined at the trial of Lieut. Marcel Patenaude, hold-up squad chief, Sgt. Gaston Archambault and ex-detective Paul Hervieux, dismissed from the force two months ago.

Poliquin said that after his arrest Nov. 11, 1948, on charges of stealing bonds from the Caisse Populaire (a co-operatively owned bank) at Ste. Genevieve de Batiscan, Que., Archambault demanded that he sign a statement. He quoted the policeman as saying his signature would assure him immunity from punishment.

"Even so," Poliquin said, "it still cost me $4,500 for my freedom of which $2,000 was supposed to go to Hilaire."

At this juncture, Mr. Justice Edouard Archambault ordered the statement, along with a similar one made Tuesday, stricken from the record as hearsay.

Lambert's pallbearers, Kit Carson had pointed him out the day of the funeral.

"Long Andy Anders. Dusty Rhodes once caught him stealing some Rocking R horses and sent him to prison. Blackjack got him out on parole last month. He has a place a few miles down the river. He's bad medicine," Kit had told him.

Somewhere in the distance sounded the mournful wail of a locomotive whistle and a wolf picked up the echo and howled in the gray dawn. Little Doc shivered a little.

Long Andy's gun prodded him in the back. "Step along, Doc. I've got your bag."

He was half way across the clearing when Long Andy's voice sounded behind him: "I thought so. You slipped your blindfold. You shouldn't do a thing that you don't pay a man to see too much."

He reached and pulled the blindfold from Little Doc's face and stuffed it into his pocket. The cabin door opened cautiously and a man stood back in the shadow of the unlighted cabin. "You fetch the Doc?" a voice called.

"I got him. I had him blindfolded and I took him the long way around, thinkin' to throw him off. But the blindfold slipped and he's seen too much for his own good."

Little Doc grabbed his bag from the lanky man's hand and headed for the cabin.

"You waste too much time talkin'," Doc retorted. "Light 'a light," he said to the man blocking the doorway with a gun in his hand.

A low moan came from somewhere on the floor. Doc looked down and saw a man on a tarp-covered roundup bed spread on the hard-packed dirt floor of the log cabin.

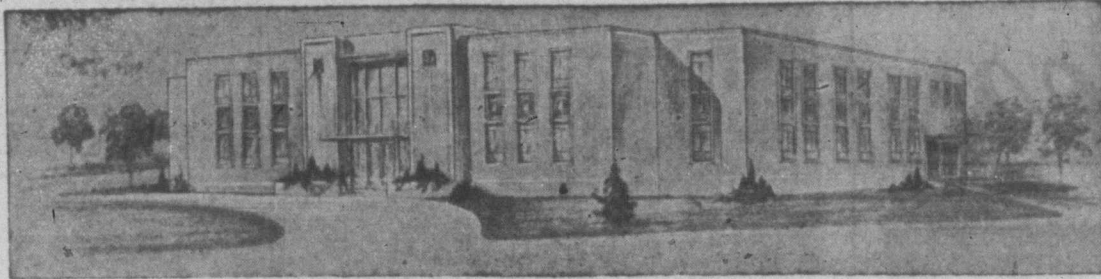

The wounded man's face was slimy with cold sweat and his skin had a greenish pallor. He looked up at Little Doc with glazed eyes, as the medical man knelt and pulled the tarp back gently. The man's shirt and blood-stained overalls had been taken off and his long underwear was sodden with blood. A nauseating stench came from him.

He had been shot in the belly and gangrene had set in. The wounded man was dying. He would be dead in a few hours at the longest. Doc pulled the blood-stained tarp back over him and gave him a hypodermic. The man never moved and his glazed eyes saw nothing.

Little Doc went to the door and motioned the two men outside. "If I'd gotten here yesterday or soon after it happened, I might have saved his life, but I doubt it. The man will be dead in a few hours. I gave him a shot of dope to ease the pain."

He held up a hand when Long Andy was about to open his mouth. "I don't care who you are. I don't want to know anything about you or your business. It's part of my doctor's job to keep his mouth shut and betray no secrets. There is nothing more I can do for that man. If you will point out the trail, I'll find my way back to town."

"Like fun you will!" Long Andy had his six-shooter in his hand. "You ain't goin' nowhere!" (To Be Continued)

Upper Island Centre To Benefit By New Building

According to architects, new provincial government court house to be built at Courtenay should look like this. Structural plans of building are now being prepared and tenders for construction will be called in September. Work is to start as soon as contract is awarded, so building will be finished sometime next year. Building will cost in neighborhood of $375,000. It will house various government agencies as well as court offices. Present court house at Cumberland will be closed as soon as new building is ready.

Oak Bay Plans Mayhew Talks On Breakwater

Oak Bay Council will meet Fisheries Minister R. W. Mayhew here around the end of the month to discuss the possibility of the construction of a breakwater adjacent to Oak Bay Boat-house on Beach Drive.

In a letter to council, Mr. Mayhew said he expects to be in the city on the weekend of July 29, and will be "glad to discuss this matter."

The breakwater has been talked about for five years. Subject came up when the government sent a questionnaire out just after the war asking for suggestions for possible projects which could meet any sudden slump in employment.

The breakwater would likely extend from the point just south of the boat-house northward toward Jimmy Chicken Island.

It was noted at a council meeting Wednesday night that there is a lack of safe harbors between Victoria and Sidney. Even Cudworth Bay was considered as not safe from southeast storms by a municipal official.

'PEACE' RESOLUTION

Quebec Villagers Duped By Communist Schemers

QUEBEC (CP)—Two or three dozen Quebec Roman Catholic villagers with names like St. Jean-Baptiste des Ecoreuils have become dupes in the Communist game of peace propaganda.

They have been startled to find themselves publicized as supporters of the "Stockholm resolution" calling for a ban on atomic weapons as part of a "world peace appeal."

The mayors and councillors of the rural settlements with little or no investigation signed petitions mailed to them and asking for their support for a purported peace movement.

A list of towns and villages issued by "Le Conseil de Quebec Pour la Paix" (Quebec Council for Peace) and describing them as official endorsers covers 28 Quebec counties.

UNCLE RAY

A little book, printed 163 years ago, gives a record of an old form of baseball in the United States. Under the head of "BASEBALL," the book contains this verse:

"The ball once struck off,
"Away flies the boy
"To the next destin'd post,
"And then home with joy."

There is a picture on the same page as the verse, and it shows three players touching, or standing close to, the thick posts which served as bases in those days. With the passing of time, the

German Measles On Decline In Victoria

A common communicable disease, rubella or German measles, is on the decrease in Victoria, according to Dr. J. L. Gayton, medical health officer.

Only a few years ago children affected by the disease numbered over 1,000, Dr. Gayton said. So far only 70 cases of rubella have been reported since the start of the year.

While rubella was not considered dangerous, Dr. Gayton warned the disease could be harmful to pregnant mothers.

posts were left out and in their place came flat "bags" which were laid on the ground. To this day we may hear someone shout to a player, "stay on the bag!" even though the present bases hardly look like bags.

As I said yesterday, the game of baseball appears to have grown from the older games of cricket and rounders, with changes which make baseball different from either. For a time the contest was known as "town-ball." The first record of a club with a townball team dates back to 1833, when the Olympic Townball Club was organized in Philadelphia.

Six years later, according to claims which have been put forth, a man named Abner Doubleday drew up a set of baseball rules. This is supposed to have been done in the village of Cooperstown, N.Y., about 60 miles west of Albany. The claims rest on very slender proof, and there is strong doubt that Doubleday had much, if anything, to do with the early playing of baseball.

In any case the year 1845 saw a famous old-time baseball team started in New York City. The players were called Knickerbockers, and they wore fancy vests and knee-length pants with bows of ribbon at the knees. They used paddle-shaped bats to strike the ball.

A year later the Knickerbockers were challenged by another team, the New York Nine. The game resulted in a victory for the New York Nine by a score of 23 to 1. The contest lasted only four innings. After taking more time for practice, the Knickerbockers were able to defeat another team, the Gothams, several times in a row.

Asks Approval Of 80-Lot Plan On 'Bay' Land

Oak Bay Council Wednesday night moved a step closer to completion of the subdivision and sale of lots of the last section of Hudson's Bay property in the Lansdowne area north of the old Willows exhibition grounds.

At a meeting of the council, a memo from municipal engineer A. S. G. Musgrave recommended approval of the plan of the 80-lot subdivision provided that the following undertaking be given by the Hudson's Bay Co., which owns the property:

1. All necessary easements over lots to be provided for sanitary sewer, storm water drains, pole lines, cables and wires.
2. Local sewer and water improvement petitions to be filed for paving all streets shown on the plan, with a small exception for a 25-foot lane.
3. Each conveyance to contain a clause whereby the purchaser agrees not to oppose these various local improvements.

New Fire Engine Destroyed In Fire

PARIS (Reuter)—Six days ago the village of Viry-Châtillon near here had a new fire engine. Today it needs a new one. The engine entered public service on Bastille Day (July 14) with much ceremony and pomp. Its first and last call was to a burning wheat field and there the engine was trapped in the flames and destroyed.

Ottawa Planning To Meet Dollar Problems

Officials Study Measures To Be Taken After Marshall Aid Scheme Ends In 1952

OTTAWA (CP)—Government officials were called together suddenly Wednesday to plunge into a fresh study of the European dollar problem, expected to develop to serious extents when Marshall Plan aid ends in 1952.

Almost every top-flight economic and trade official in the government's service gathered to be briefed on various plans offered by European nations to meet the problem.

Addressing the group was Sydney D. Pierce, Canada's roving economic ambassador, who represented this country for the first time at a recent council meeting of the Organization for European Economic Co-operation. Mr. Pierce, also assistant deputy trade minister and responsible for stockpiling of strategic defence materials, it was learned, brought with him at least four major proposals for meeting the 1952 situation.

These, it was understood, would be studied by working groups of Canadian economic and trade experts. It is hoped that out of these studies will emerge one composite scheme which Canada may recommend to the O.E.C.C. executive.

Mr. Pierce's presence at the Paris meeting marked the first time Canada has actively participated in the effort of Western Europe to find some solution for the problems of getting currency for the purchase of much-needed goods when U.S. Marshall Plan dollars stop flowing in two years' time.

Question 'Witnesses'

NEW YORK (AP)—Four Jehovah's Witnesses, coming from Europe for the sect's convention here July 30, were detained here Wednesday. Immigration officials said they were being investigated as possible pacifists who may hold views dangerous to the U.S. Two are Germans and two are Greeks.

A-PLANT REPORT

Births At Chalk River Rise To Total Of 281

OTTAWA (CP)—For three years, employees at Canada's Chalk River plant have defied any suggestion that an atomic energy plant is no place for marriage and children.

Cupid is working overtime and the birthrate is high at the huge National Research Council atomic project.

The Lancet, a British medical journal, said recently that babies whose parents have been exposed to atomic radiation might suffer from "serious physical defects."

Officials here said there is no evidence to support this at Chalk River.

Since 1947 there have been 56 marriages at Deep River, Ont.—the self-contained village where 2,000 Chalk River employees live. In 37 of these, both worker and worker were working on the atomic energy project. There were 19 other marriages in which either husband or wife was a Chalk River employee.

The birthrate at Deep River is believed to be higher per capita than anywhere else in Canada.

The number of children born since 1947 reached 281 in June, with 47 births since the turn of the year. The 1948 births reached a peak of 103.

No ill-effects either to children or parents have been reported. N.R.C. officials say Chalk River employees are better protected against atomic radiation than any other group in Canada.

"No one, so far as is known, has ever suffered ill-effects from working at Chalk River," one official said.

Five Arrested In Juvenile War

VANCOUVER (BUP)—Juvenile gang war complete with loaded guns, broke out in Vancouver Tuesday night, and five youths were arrested.

A Kitsilano boy was saved from being wounded when a stolen gun jammed.

Police said that so far, only a charge of breaking and entering a gunsmith store has been laid against the five. They said other charges may be laid later today. Police have recovered four of five guns stolen from the store.

Attlee Asks Labor Group Drop Motion

LONDON (CP)—Prime Minister Attlee has asked 23 Labor members of Parliament who put down an "embarrassing" parliamentary motion on Korea to withdraw it.

He made an unexpected appearance Wednesday at a private meeting of the 315-strong parliamentary Labor Party, and in reaffirming government policy of support to the United Nations Korea resolutions, mentioned this contentious motion.

It urged the government to pave the way for world settlement by endeavoring to secure admission of the Chinese Communist government into the United Nations Security Council, and asked for the withdrawal of U.S. forces from Formosa.

Sydney Silverman, chief signatory to the motion—from which two M.P.'s have now withdrawn their signatures—is understood to have spoken in vindication of his position.

TO TOUR EUROPE

TORONTO (CP)—The Amateur Athletic Union of Canada announced last night that a team of 20 junior athletes will be invited to tour Europe next summer.

The youngsters will be selected after the 1951 junior track and field championships next July and will compete in Britain, France, Finland and Sweden.

MINDS GO BACK TO HITLER DAYS

With Eyes On Korea British Ask If Own Defences Ready To Act

LONDON (CP)—The gravity of the international situation with its ever-present menace of a third world war is causing growing concern in many quarters about Britain's own defences.

The questions being asked are similar to those posed during the critical period that preceded Hitler's march into Poland in September, 1939.

Qualified authorities have been telling an anxious public that the Communist aggression in Korea is unlikely to flunge the present generation into another major war. But the man-in-the-street has not forgotten the shattering let-down of Neville Chamberlain's "peace in our time" assurance before the German blitzkrieg engulfed Europe more than 10 years ago. The average Briton wants to be sure the government, in consultation with other units of the Commonwealth, is ready to meet the challenge of aggression and that the country's armed strength is equal to her commitments.

1939 RECALLED

The Conservative Daily Mail, leading the campaign for aggressive preparedness, recalls the devastation of a blasted Britain from 1940 onwards because the country was inadequately armed in 1939.

"Two world wars," the paper says, "should have taught us the peril of allowing our armed forces to run down. But has it? Enormous sums are being spent on defence, but are they being laid out to the best advantage?"

In the case of need, it asks, could Britain field a well-trained, highly-mechanized force, supplied with modern weapons and equipment?

"If the answer is 'no'—as we believe it to be—the government should take every possible step to make it 'yes.' They should act at once, even though it means more money for arms and less for false teeth."

The public has heard much about collective security and the North Atlantic Alliance as deterrents to potential aggressors. And the taxpayer has been told that £780,000,000 ($2,418,000,000) would be required this year to meet the needs of the army, navy and air force.

BOMB SPECTRE

But in the background looms the spectre of the atom and hydrogen bombs and other new weapons that have increased man's power of destruction to an extent that stuns the imagination.

The average citizen has reason to believe Britain and her Allies have an edge in the atomic armaments race. However, he knows Russia has made progress in this field—more rapid than at one time seemed likely.

Some authorities state there is no certainty that the new weapons will ever be used should war come. They point to the example of gas and germ warfare that could have been employed with deadly effects in the Second World War.

Meanwhile, a recruiting campaign has been under way for volunteers in the older-age groups to serve as a home defence force. They are being trained by experts who went to Hiroshima and Nagasaki to study the effects of the atom bombs on those Japanese cities and the people who lived in them. The call was for a minimum force of 150,000. But fewer than 40,000 have enrolled to date.

The government has been taken to task for lack of aggressiveness in furthering this phase of the defence program. Its critics charge the public has been given no information about air-raid shelters or other protection against atomic or rocket missiles, about dispersal and evacuation or signals to be adopted to warn the populace of danger.

Similar complaints were heard during the tense months that preceded the outbreak of the last war.

SECRET SITTING

Claiming there is far too much "hush-hush" in dealing with defence preparation generally, opposition members in the House of Commons have waged a persistent campaign for a secret session of Parliament to discuss the situation. The pleas have been rejected by the government on the grounds that such discussion, without wartime controls, might endanger national security.

On this point the Daily Mail commented editorially:

"Gloom and despondency about the present situation are as needless as they are foolish. But it would be even worse to behave like ostriches. The world is passing through a highly-dangerous period. The best hope of warding off the worst that could happen is to be ready for it."

ANGLER CATCHES 400-LB. BEAR DURING TROUT-FISHING TRIP

QUESNEL (CP)—Fisherman Harry Bourne figured his tackle was too light for the biggest catch he ever lost—a 400-pound bear.

The Vancouver angler was fishing on nearby Quesnel Lake when Bruin—enjoying a swim—got fouled up in Bourne's light trout line. The shaggy beast swam to shore and bounded into the woods still entangled.

Finally the bear broke the line after it was wound around a tree. Bourne and his party retrieved the line and returned to their fishing.

Shortly after Bourne saw Bruin sitting on his haunches on shore, curiously watching the anglers.

Won By Girls

WEST WICHAM, Cambridge-shire, Eng. (CP)—The "weaker" sex has pulled it off again. A team of eight girls outpulled eight boys of the same age and height in a tug-of-war competition here.

Hudson Bay has an area of 472,000 square miles.
